PRESIDENT SUMMONS
BUTLER AND STEARNS

Slemp States That Definite Announcement Will Be Made in Daugherty Case Within Two Days.

Washington, February 26.—A definite announcement regarding Attorney General Daugherty will be made within 48 hours, C. Bascom Slemp, secretary to President Coolidge, announced after a sudden conference at the white house late Tuesday night.

The prevailing belief now is that the announcement will be the resignation of Daugherty, but Slemp would venture no information on this point. Daugherty spent two hours with the president before Slemp was called in. William M. Butler, Coolidge's campaign manager, and Frank P. Stearns, an old friend and adviser to the president, were present during the conference with Slemp. It is understood that they canvassed the entire political situation brought about by the Teapot Dome affair and the recent drive on Daugherty.

Leaders Are Consulted.

During the day Coolidge saw Senator Curtis, party whip, and Paul Howard, of Cleveland, who represented Daugherty as attorney when the house considered impeachment charges a year ago. Then after the cabinet meeting, Coolidge, Daugherty, Secretary of War Weeks, Secretary of Labor Davis and Postmaster General New held a conference, but all were silent regarding it.

It was significant that from no quarter, not even from Slemp, was the statement forthcoming that Daugherty would not resign. Slemp said Daugherty has not resigned but he would make no prediction as to the future.

At the white house press conference, the president's spokesman said that he had no statement to make regarding Daugherty.

All of these developments, coupled with the fact that Senator Lodge objected to consideration of the Wheeler resolution calling for investigation of the department of justice, pointed to the fact that some crisis has been reached and that there will be a definite statement within a very short time.

POSITION OF DAUGHERTY REMAINS IN BALANCE.

Washington, February 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—Attorney General Daugherty's position in the cabinet continues to remain in the balance.

After President Coolidge had conferred with him for two hours at the white house, tonight, Mr. Daugherty's enemies were predicting that his resignation would not be long forthcoming.

The attorney general's friends at the same time were reiterating that he stood by his determination not to resign under fire and declared President Coolidge had no intention of asking him to do so.

Under the surface of these open pronouncements for and against the attorney general, a storm is brewing.

Armistice Gives
Breathing Spell
In Honduran War

Truce of 48 Hours Agreed Upon by Two Army Leaders.

New Orleans, February 26.—Carlos Larios, commander of troops supporting the dictatorship of former President Lopez Gutierrez, in Honduras, and General Vicente Costa, commanding one of the revolutionary armies, have agreed upon a 48-hour armistice, according to advices received late today by Manuel Paz, acting consul general for Honduras.

The truce is accepted as indicative of an early settlement of political differences which led to the uprising, although no details of the terms were received by Mr. Paz.

The trouble in Honduras grew out of the presidential election last fall. Neither of the three candidates for the presidency polled enough votes for election and when the Honduran congress, in conformity with the law, attempted to settle the question a deadlock resulted. Upon the expiration of his term at midnight January 31, Gutierrez immediately proclaimed a dictatorship. General Tiburcio Carias, one of the presidential candidates, thereupon launched an uprising with the object of ousting Gutierrez and holding another election. Carias and his followers, according to latest information received here from Honduras, now control the greater part of the republic and are almost within reach of Tegucigalpa, the capital.

GUARD STABBED IN PRISON ROW

Treadaway Wounded Nine Times by Attacking Prisoners—One Assassin Injured.

R. R. Treadaway, of 6 Erie street, a guard at the federal prison, was slashed and stabbed nine times and painfully injured when two prisoners attacked him with a shoe knife and a bottle in the mess hall of the penitentiary at supper Monday night.

The guard defended himself with his "billy" and inflicted a painful scalp wound upon one of the assailants before other prison attendants reached the scene and quelled the disorder. The two prisoners were named Hendrick and Sullivan. They are said by prison officials to have attacked Guard Treadaway as the result of a personal grudge in the matter of cell transfers.

Treadaway Tuesday was in the prison hospital, and officials stated that it was not believed that his condition would prove serious, though he was painfully slashed and stabbed. One of the prisoners wielded a shoe knife which had been filed down until the blade was only about an inch long, and it was probably due to this fact that the wounds did not prove dangerous. The other hurled a bottle at the guard, but it is stated that his arm was wild and that the missile caused no damage.

Treadaway, who has served as a guard at the prison for several years, comes from Paducah, Ky. It is understood that he was at one time a member of the Kentucky state legislature.

Deputy Warden L. J. Fletcher told The Constitution Tuesday night that prison officials had not decided upon their course of action with reference to the two prisoners.

FORMER HUSBAND OF PEGGY JOYCE
HELD IN ATLANTA

S. Phil Hopkins, Alleged Fake Oil Promoter, Is Taken Into Custody by Federal Authorities.

PLANNED TO ENTER
AUTO BUSINESS HERE

Present Mrs. Hopkins "Will Stick by Husband." Family Lived in Exclusive Section.

S. Phil Hopkins, of Houston, Tex., alleged fake oil promoter and former husband of Peggy Hopkins Joyce, was arrested by postal authorities at Peachtree and Tenth streets early Tuesday night on a commissioner's warrant charging misuse of mails in connection with the sale of oil stock. Hopkins was confined in Fulton tower for the night. Wednesday morning he will be taken before Commissioner W. Colquitt Carter and given an opportunity to make bond.

As president of the Hopkins Consolidated Oil corporation, and the Equitable Trust company, a subsidiary concern, both of Houston, Texas, Hopkins is alleged to have misused the mails in furtherance of alleged fraudulent schemes.

In a statement at Fulton tower Tuesday night Hopkins denied his guilt, and attributed his plight to "existing circumstances" which made it impossible for him to further finance his oil interests.

There has always been an inclination on the part of the public to confuse an oil failure with an oil fraud, Hopkins told a Constitution reporter. "All fraudulent companies fail sooner or later and when a bona fide concern fails there is a natural tendency to attribute it to dishonesty."

Hopkins stated that due to anti-investment propaganda he found it impossible to continue with his operations in Houston. His holdings consisted of oil lands in Arkansas and other scattered leases, he said.

"When I found I had gone just as far as I could I decided to leave. I didn't intend to deceive anyone, and if I had known there was to be any trouble I would have returned to Houston at once."

Misrepresented Firm.

The Hopkins Consolidated Oil company is said to have been capitalized at $100,000. Government officials assigned to the case declare Hopkins represented it as a $1,000,000 concern.

Diving Contests To Be Sponsored By Constitution

Madeline Berlo To Conduct Contests on Stage at Loew's Grand.

Despite the fact that chill winds and cold rain seem to have a monopoly on the weather market just now, spring is near at hand—and soon Atlantans and Georgians by the thousands will be answering the call of the "oil swimmin' hole."

Realizing this fact—and taking advantage of the fact that Madeline Berlo, renowned professional diver and swimmer, and her four diving girls are booked as headliners all next week at Loew's Grand theatre.—The Constitution has arranged for publication of a special series of six diving lessons written by Miss Berlo. To be followed by three amateur diving contests on the stage of the Grand.

The first of the contests will be for boys and young men of from 14 to 25 years and will be held Wednesday, March 5, following the regular performance of the diving girls. The second contest will be for girls only, participants being limited to the ages of 16 to 25. This contest will be held Thursday, March 6. In each of these contests a handsome loving cup offered by The Constitution will be given as first prize. Winners are to

Smiling Lips Teacher Kissed
TWINKLE IN GIRL'S EYE ENCOURAGES DAMON
May Pronounce His Penalty

Kansas City, Kan., February 26.—The smiling lips of pretty Miss Margaretta Pratt, 16-year-old high school senior, which he is accused of kissing, may speak the punishment E. E. Damon, printing instructor, is to receive for his act.

One of the more influential members of the school board Tuesday, declared that inasmuch as Margaretta was the recipient of the kiss, she should be the one to pass judgment and not the school authorities, who weren't kissed.

Damon resigned because of the notoriety which accompanied investigation of the episode which took place in the halls of the high school. Later he decided to stand trial before the board. When he did not appear in the class room Monday, more than 500 students threatened to "strike" unless Damon was reinstated.

Leaders of the insurgents were called into conference and it is said were told that the case would be reopened upon the return here of Clarence T. Rice, principal, and M. E. Pearson, superintendent of public schools, who are in Chicago attending an educational meeting.

Miss Pratt merely smiled Tuesday when told she might be chosen to pass "sentence" on the instructor.

"But I wasn't kissed," she protested again. "Of course, I don't want to say what my verdict will be until after I'm selected to be the judge. And then I must hear the evidence, too, isn't that the way trials are conducted?"

There was just a faint twinkle in her eyes as she spoke, which left an impression that Damon will not fare so badly if she passes sentence.

FATE OF M'ADOO
RESTS ON FUTURE
STATES SULLIVAN

Progress of Machine Halted for Time, but Original Following Remains Practically Intact.

Washington, February 26.—The results of the McAdoo incident on the democratic presidential field have now crystallized sufficiently to be identified clearly. As a very rough way of expressing it, let us imagine that the strength which McAdoo and his friends had accumulated by about February 1 was 600 out of the 1,094 delegates who will compose the democratic convention, and that the remaining 494 were distributed among his opponents. This is a fairly accurate statement as of the day before the McAdoo-Doherty incident occurred. To this statement of relative strength it should be added that at that time McAdoo was going so strong that there had already begun that migration of "band wagon jumpers" which at some time or another is a feature of the growth of any obviously leading candidate.

What has now happened as a result of the Doherty-McAdoo incident can be stated roughly as follows: In the first place, the "band wagon jumpers" have scuttled back to wait until such time as events may either develop a new band wagon for a different candidate, or else the McAdoo band wagon may resume its former speed and momentum.

"Watchful Waiting."

In addition to this class, a certain number of democratic leaders who were sincerely and in good faith for McAdoo, not because they liked him particularly but on the theory that he would be the strongest candidate, have now backed away and are practicing a political variation of "watchful waiting."

As a result of this, the McAdoo strength has for the moment suffered a diminution of, let us say, something like a hundred delegates, so that it now would be expressed as 500 out of 1,094. Still, rather, what can be spoken of as the McAdoo strength has become "dynamite." The McAdoo strength may now be used as a phrase describing not merely

In Curling Pins Without Powder

Says the author of Boudoir Mirrors of Washington: "There is so much unrecorded history in Washington—inside history—so many unrelated facts; the social aspect, the political glissade, the reason why! I wonder if I dare face the task! However, it will be great fun rummaging in the past and the near-past and revealing the present; holding the mirror to facts—in their curling pins and without powder on their noses."

PROBERS PROMISE
NEW SENSATIONS
IN OIL TELEGRAMS

Name of Francis McAdoo Signed to One of the Messages Inspected by Senate Committee.

WOODHOUSE IS CALLED TO APPEAR THURSDAY

Atlee Pomerene Announces Oil Counsellors Will Issue Statement Outlining Legal Steps.

Washington, February 26.—Out of a batch of telegrams, the senate oil committee has unearthed portions of a new and sensational story, which is expected to develop more fully when the committee examines on Wednesday other messages which went from the capital to former Secretary of the Interior Fall and Edward K. McLean at Palm Beach, Fla.

The name of "Francis McAdoo" was signed to one telegram inspected by the committee in secret session Tuesday, according to one senator who was present. The name "McAdoo" appeared quite frequently throughout the messages, in the character of an adviser, it is claimed.

It was not apparent whether the "Francis McAdoo" was the Francis H. McAdoo, the son of William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, who lives in New York, where he is a member of the law firm of Miller & Otis. The son of the democratic presidential candidate was said to be in the city Tuesday, but senators heard he had left for New York in the afternoon.

Palmer Is Mentioned.

The telegram also contained frequent references to former Attorney General Palmer, now counsel for McLean; James W. Zevely, Harry E. Sinclair's attorney, and two members of the oil committee, Senators Lenroot and Smoot. It was Palmer who gave out here in McLean's behalf a telegram from the publisher from Palm Beach, stating that McLean had loaned Fall $100,000 on his personal note. This loan, the publisher later denied, declaring that the checks had never been cashed.

The telegrams showed that McLean had kept in close touch with developments here, and it was noted that they became in time more guarded, according to senators who saw them. Some of the messages bore out facts which the committee has established, and others gave hints of new leads which will be investigated. It also was shown that McLean had set up a special leased wire to his paper, here, over which he received notes from members of his local staff regarding developments, and transmitted orders here. These messages, taken on copy paper, here, were destroyed as they came in, it is said.

Messages which were transmitted by the Western Union Telegraph company were examined Tuesday. Not all of them had been collected when the file was presented. They are being looked up and will be submitted later, Senator Lenroot, of Wisconsin, made public one message not contained in the files, which he had sent to McLean, notifying the publisher that

Clean Up Cabinet Or Resign, Reed Tells Coolidge

If President Fails It's Time for Him To Quit, States Senator.

Hannibal, Mo., February 26.—United States Senator James A. Reed, discussing the oil disclosures at a mass meeting here tonight, asserted that "if the cabinet is not purged soon it will be time for Mr. Coolidge to resign."

The speech was in furtherance of Mr. Reed's candidacy for the democratic presidential nomination.

"Purge Washington first and the government of every form of corruption," the senator emphasized.

"Vast sums of money have been paid and in my judgment bribery was not confined to Albert Fall."

Reign of Labor
In Britain Faces
Successful Test

Government Action, Giving Free Hand in Relieving Unemployed, Is Upheld.

London, February 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—The labor government in the house of commons today faced a test of its strength and emerged successfully.

The question which gave rise to the discussion in the house had to do with Health Minister Wheatley's recent action in giving the Popular guardians what practically amounted to a free hand in extending relief to the unemployed. This had threatened to call down the wrath of both conservatives and liberals on the labor administration, but when the house divided at 11 o'clock tonight on closure moved by a conservative, the motion was defeated 245 to 228.

Many liberals voted with the laborites and thus the government was aided by the liberals, much as it was a few days ago when the conservatives gave Premier MacDonald their support on his proposal to lay down new warships.

The liberal motion, fathered by Frank Briston, and the conservative amendment, of which Sir William Jovann-Hicks was sponsor, were talked out, and the Popular question for the present is hardly likely further to disturb the labor government.

'MYSTIC KNIGHTS'
NAME JONES HEAD

Congress of Klansmen of 13 States Form New Order at Final Meeting Tuesday Night.

Formation of "The Knights of the Mystic Klan," a fraternal order designed to be world-wide in scope; selection of Kansas City as national headquarters of the new order; election of John R. Jones, as chairman of a temporary board of control, resulted Tuesday night in a congress here of klansmen and former klansmen representing 13 states. The congress was called by E. Y. Clarke, former acting imperial wizard of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

Resolutions strongly condemning W. J. Simmons, founder of the Klan, and the present administration of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and branding it as "an atrocious organization whose object was to overthrow free government," and authorizing the establishment of the new "Knights of the Mystic Klan" were adopted early in the session.

Approximately 200 men were present when the vote on the resolution was taken. Prolonged discussion followed presentation of the resolutions by Chairman Clarke, chairman of the resolutions committee. They were seconded by Dr. Fred Morris, member of the Atlanta board of education from the first ward.

The resolution declares that members of the Knights Klan, the Senate Is Asked To Probe Cotton System Reports

South Carolina Senator Announces Decision After Modification Is Refused.

Washington, February 26.—Senate investigation of the present system of reporting cotton crop estimates by the census bureau will be asked Thursday by Senator Smith, democrat, of South Carolina.

Decision to seek a formal inquiry announced today by the senator followed failure of the Congressional Cotton conference to arrive at a satisfactory agreement with officials of the census bureau for modification of the prevailing system, which, southern senators have contended, results in inaccurate computation of the annual carry-over to the detriment of the market value of cotton.

H. G. Hester, cotton statistician of the New Orleans exchange notified the conference today he would be unable, because of his age and health, to attend the inquiry, but he reiterated his opinion that the latest census bureau report included "500,000 bales, the existence of which is yet to be verified."

"The senate probably will not convene for regular business until Thursday," Senator Smith said today, "and a resolution will then be introduced asking authority for the agricultural committee to investigate all the factors in order to settle the question of the existence of this cotton, and if it does not exist to take suitable steps to have the correction made. The public may rest assured that nothing will be left undone to ascertain the facts."

CIGARETTE TAX

BY VOTE, 117-85

Provision Exempting Ten Per Cent Levy on Theater Tickets of Fifty Cents or Less Stands.

AUTO TAX REDUCTION
ROW CLOSES SESSION

Chairman Green Charges Representative Mills With "Usurping Powers of the Chairman."

Washington, February 26.—Two major amendments were incorporated in the revenue bill today by the house amid storms of debate involving a series of personal exchanges, threats of republican organization leaders to vote against passage of the entire bill, and a warning from Representative Mills, republican, New York, of the possibility of a presidential veto. The session ended in a row over reduction of the automobile taxes, final action on these proposals going over until Thursday. The house will devote its session tomorrow exclusively to the Harding memorial service.

Gift Tax Imposed.

A gift tax, imposing levies beginning at 1 per cent on total amounts of gifts in one year in excess of $50,000, and running up to 40 per cent was voted, 191 to 65.

The tax on cigarettes was raised from $3 to $4 per 1,000, by a vote of 117 to 85.

A provision of the bill granting exemption from the 10 per cent theater admission tax on all tickets of fifty cents and under without several assaults to lower or raise the exemption.

Tax on Autos.

When adjournment was forced an amendment was before the house on which both Representative Longworth, the republican leader, and Representative Garner, of Texas, in charge of democratic forces, said they understood general agreement had been reached. This would provide for repeal of the 3 per cent tax on automobile trucks and wagons the chassis of which sell for less than $1,000, and for a cut in half of the 5 per cent tax on automobile tires and accessories.

The second extended rumble of the day broke out at this juncture, Representative Clancy, democrat, Michigan, rushing to leaders on his side with the cry that he had been "double crossed" in not obtaining time to speak. Representative Garner took the declaration as directed at him and rushed toward Mr. Clancy when Representative Garrett, of Tennessee, the democratic floor leader, intervened.

An agreement had been reached to end debate on the automobile tax subject at 6 o'clock. Representative Clancy had not obtained time to speak

COCO DROPS WORK ON BASTROP CASE

New Orleans, La., February 26.—A. V. Coco, attorney general of Louisiana, announced late today he would make no further move in the prosecution of misdeemeanor and felony cases at Bastrop growing out of the operations of hooded and murder bands in Morehouse parish in 1922 when eliminated in the kidnapping and murder of Watt Daniel and T. F. Richard, of Mer Rouge. Mr. Coco was defeated for re-election in the recent primaries and will be succeeded in May by Percy Saint, of New Orleans. Further steps, Mr. Coco said, would be up to Mr. Saint.

Several citizens of the parish, including Captain J. K. Skippeth, exalted cyclops of the Ku Klux Klan, were convicted of misdeemeanors and are awaiting sentence while district Judge F. M. Olson has under advisement motions for retrials and decisions on point of law argued by opposing counsel.

26 NEW AWARDS IN WAR CLAIMS AGAINST GERMANY

Washington, February 26.—Twenty-six awards totaling $158,822.40, of which 12 aggregating $117,125.25 to the Lusitania group, were announced late today by the German-American mixed claims commission in favor of American claimants, against Germany.

The largest award outside of the Lusitania claims was for $104,000 with interest from April 1, 1918, to Marshall Field and Company, Chicago.

Four claims were dismissed by the commission and the remainder of the awards were for amounts ranging from $100 to $2,500.

The awards in the Lusitania group were based on property losses sustained by Americans individually, or by their estates and were decided in accordance with the principles laid down in an opinion on the Lusitania claims announced last November 1. All the awards in the property cases carry interest of 5 per cent a year dating from May 7, 1915, when the Lusitania was sunk, to the date of payment by Germany.

"Hounded" in Case Of Louise Lawson, He Kills Himself

New York, February 26.—The police received word today from the Newark, N. J., police that Joseph Fleming, of this city, had committed suicide there because "he was being hounded" in connection with the sensational murder of Louise Lawson, music student, in her fashionable apartment here.

At Fleming's home here it was said he formerly had been employed as a bar tender in a New York hotel. According to the communication, Fleming asserted he was crazed because of the activities of the police.

Miss Lawson, who came to New York from Texas, was found dead in her studio apartment. She had been gagged and bound. The police learned that two men, representing themselves as bootleggers, had entered her apartment two hours before her body was found. No definite clues have ever been developed. The police said they had never heard of Fleming's name in connection with their investigations.

Newark, N. J., February 26.—Detective Sergeant Conlon, who is investigating the suicide of Joseph Fleming, of New York, said today that he was inclined to doubt whether the man actually had anything to do with the murder of Louise Lawson, New York actress, but that he had been apparently suffering from delusions of persecution for some time. Fleming left a note which read: "Joseph Fleming, 580 Eleventh avenue, New York, crazy."

JOHN QUINN SPEAKS TO CHATHAM POST ON SOLDIER BONUS

Savannah, Ga., February 26.—(Special.)—John R. Quinn, national commander of the American Legion, was today and this evening guest of honor of Chatham County post. He spoke to the Rotary club today.

The government can easily pay the soldiers bonuses and also reduce taxes by exercise of simple business judgment and economy, Mr. Quinn stated.

He visited the marine hospital, spoke to post members and made an informal talk at the Salvation Army luncheon at which a drive for local funds was begun.

He was accompanied on the visit by F. C. Painton, of Indianapolis, of the air service, and R. F. Smith, of Bakersfield, Calif., of the motor vehicle corps.

HUERTA DENIES REBEL DEFEATS

Washington, February 26.—Adolfo de la Huerta, Mexican revolutionary chief, telegraphed his agents here today a denial of a list of victories reported by the Mexican federal forces.

The message said General Gonzalez Pizarro and General de la O, former federalists, still were operating with the rebels; denied that the rebel general Anzaldo had vacated in his loyalty to the movement, and reiterated that General Topete, the federal, with Yaqui troops had been disastrously defeated recently near Tierra Blanca by General Sanchez with the loss of 1,000 men.

Minister of War Serrano, the message said, was resorting to news bulletins containing false information to screen the real situation from the public.

OREGON ORDERS NEW CAMPAIGN

Mexico City, February 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—President Obregon has directed General Amaro to begin an energetic campaign against the rebel leaders Estrada and Diezguerra who are still at Coahuila. A column of 7,000 men under General Escobar will occupy Colima and Mazatlan in this movement.

Aviators are co-operating with the troops, locating and bombing the enemy.

A rebel band belonging to Antonio Villareal, after being defeated at Curva de la Muerte, captured Toluca, which was not garrisoned, but soon evacuated the position and are supposed to be moving toward Tuxpan. Active pursuit is being made of the rebel bands roving around Cerro Azul, Los Naranjos and Potrero de la Llanos.

After an adventurous trip from the Guerrero coast region, and crossing an extensive rebel zone, General Ismael Castro with 250 men successfully escorted Governors Neri, of Guerrero, and several American proprietors and officials in mining companies to Mexico City.

General Castro predicts the capture of Acapulco within a fortnight and complete extermination of the revolt in Guerrero within two months. He said that Romulo Figueroa has about 2,500 poorly armed men now operating near Iguala.

A rebel band which intended to blow up a passenger train near Soledad was defeated by the federalists after two hours of fighting, the rebels losing 27 killed.

Torn Between Appeals.

Coolidge is torn between the desire to stand by his cabinet officer, at least until the charges against him have been proved, and the desire to place the party in the strongest possible position for the coming election. It is not only his own political future that is involved, but that of all public candidates who must suffer when the party's standing is impaired. If Coolidge's own political future were the only consideration, it would be certain that he would stick with Daugherty until the end. The problem that is worrying him is whether he should disregard the appeals of others who will be up for reelection. Refuse to Compromise.

At the moment Coolidge leans strongly toward Daugherty. He takes the same view as the republican national committee, namely, that Daugherty should be protected until charges against him are sustained. He is not in sympathy with the proposed subterfuge by which Daugherty would submit his resignation now to take effect at some future date.

This plan was urged upon him as a compromise which would meet the demand for Daugherty's resignation and yet enable the attorney-general to remain in office until the investigation of his department is concluded. But neither Coolidge nor Daugherty will be a party to such a subterfuge. The judgment of the best informed persons here is that Daugherty will not resign until after the Ohio primaries April 29, as he is a candidate for delegate-at-large on the Coolidge slate in that election.

DAUGHERTY TO QUIT SAYS WASHINGTON

torney general were very general indications that either a definite announcement that he will remain or retire will be made soon. The day's developments were interpreted by many, including some of those friendly to Mr. Daugherty, to mean that the time of his retirement and the manner in which it shall be made, were more to the forefront in the negotiations between the capital and the white house than the attorney general's actual retirement itself.

New Cabinet Session. Meanwhile, from under the tight being waged to force the resignation of the attorney general, came another development.

It became known that the coalition of democratic and republican progressives, which forced the resignation of Secretary Denby and is now pressing Mr. Daugherty, has another cabinet officer singled out for the next attack. President Coolidge knows the nature of the charges which are being held ready for launching and those who are urging him to retain Mr. Daugherty until he has had a hearing, are advising the president that to permit the attorney general to leave the cabinet under fire, would be the signal for an attack on this other cabinet officer, with probably more to follow on others.

Throughout a day in which conference followed conference, all of which centered about the question of retention of Mr. Daugherty in the cabinet, the president remained silent. It was announced he had no statement to make.

Daugherty Agitated. Mr. Daugherty also was uncommunicative and after his visit to the white house tonight his only answer to a direct question as to whether he would continue in office was a declaration that "there is no statement I can make." The attorney-general left the white house plainly agitated. His customary joviality was noticeably absent.

The cabinet session lasted only an hour, but Mr. Daugherty's Secretary Weeks, Postmaster General New and Secretary Davis remained half an hour longer in conference with the president. The statement later was made at the white house that Mr. Daugherty's case had not come up for discussion during the cabinet meeting. While the cabinet was in session, however, a messenger arrived from the department of justice, bearing a message which had just previously reached the department from the senate. The messenger asked that the communication be delivered to the attorney-general at once and Mr. Daugherty upon being asked about it later said it concerned something on which he was called to make a decision during the afternoon.

Nothing further was disclosed regarding the message, but Mr. Coolidge was in touch with republican leaders in the senate throughout the day by telephone and had a conference with Senator Curtis, of Kansas, the assistant republican leader.

Another conference between the president and Mr. Howard occurred about mid-afternoon and then followed the two-hour meeting held by the president early tonight with Mr. Daugherty. Meantime the Wheeler resolution for investigation of the conduct of the department of justice by Mr. Daugherty was reported to the senate. Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the democratic leader, sought unanimous consent for its immediate consideration, but this was refused with an opportunity accorded Mr. Daugherty in the meantime to fight for vindication through the senate investigation.

This proposal has been broached to President Coolidge, but whether the executive has made such a suggestion to Mr. Daugherty has not been officially disclosed. Mr. Daugherty, until today, has declared the proposal an impossible solution, according to his friends, who, however, were not prepared as matters stood tonight to say whether his attitude had been changed by the day's conference.

You Preached Diversification to the Farmer NOW, WHAT'S THE ANSWER?

For many years, and especially since the advent of the Boll Weevil in Georgia, it has been the favorite topic, the popular indoor as well as outdoor sport of bankers, newspapers, politicians and public men and women in general to diversify by adding the farmer to DIVERSIFY; to quit the one-crop system and raise foodstuffs. Of late particular stress has been laid on the poultry business—"Raise More Chickens," "Raise More Eggs" etc. Oceans of ink and miles of good white paper have been used to carry this message.

And the farmer, in desperation after fighting the Boll Weevil to his (the farmer's) exhaustion, has tried to diversify by adding poultry. Rome wasn't built in a day, neither were large flocks of poultry, but gradually they managed to build up flocks of pure-bred stock all over the state of Georgia, depending on us to consume what they produced.

Today there are literally thousands of pure-bred White Leghorns, Hens scattered over Georgia and nearly all laying. Most of these hens receive special care and attention, and special producing feed is being sought for them by the farmers who have depended upon your promise—made or implied—that you would buy the eggs that they produced.

Now, what's the answer? What are you doing toward helping the Georgia farmer to help himself? Are you going to your eggs, or are you forgetting the farmer's needs? If you are forgetting the farmer's needs, you are forgetting the needs of the Georgia farmer. The Georgia farmer is getting less for eggs than it is costing to produce them, and while the age-old law of supply and demand must and will govern the prices, it is mainly the duty of every loyal Georgian to demand and consume Georgia eggs wherever and whenever it is possible to do so without sacrificing quality or paying extravagant prices.

DRIVE FOR RECRUITS NETS 65 MEN TUESDAY

With five companies of Atlanta's new regiment of national guard infantry already recruited to full strength, Adjutant General Charles H. Cox Tuesday wired the war department at Washington asking permission to muster these units into the service at once.

The campaign to win recruits for this addition to Atlanta's civilian military strength opened Tuesday morning and met with unusual success despite wretched weather conditions. Sixty-five applications for enlistment were received.

DRINK OR DRUG

POISONING requires ELIMINATION. The Neal Treatment acts as an ANTIDOTE for these poisons, creates a longing for drink or drugs and overcomes the diseased condition. (No Hyacinth used.) Dr. J. H. Neal, 10 years with the "Keely," in charge Neal Institute, 229 Woodward Ave., Atlanta, Ga.—(adv.)

secured and the men examined. The physical average of applicants was declared by Dr. M. M. Burns, examining doctor, who, when the regiment is complete, will command the medical detachment, to be unusually high and it is now certain that the personnel of "Atlanta's Own" regiment will stand as high in every respect as that of any national guard unit in the United States.

Companies already up to full strength are Company A, to be commanded by Captain Harry Heins; Company B, Captain Roy LeCraw; Company C, Captain Alexander (Captain Alexander is on the faculty of Tech High school); Company D, Captain W. T. Comer, Jr., and the battalion headquarters company of the first battalion, Major Charles E. Thompson, Jr.

Many of the officers who will command the regiment have already been selected, largely from the commissioned personnel of the battalion of infantry which has been located here, and which is being used as the basis from which the new regiment will be expanded.

Captain G. P. O'Keefe will be major of the second battalion of the new regiment. Captain J. C. Bloodworth will be machine gun major on the staff.

At the speed with which recruits for this new regiment were secured Tuesday it is believed that all units will be recruited up to full strength in two or three days. Units yet to be filled include Companies E, F, G and H; regimental headquarters, regimental headquarters company, service company (including a band), howitzer company, one battalion headquarters and a medical detachment.

Recruiting posts are being maintained all this week at the Chamber of Commerce, Grady monument and the Terminal station, with officers in charge who are prepared to answer any and all questions concerning the regiment.

Merchants and manufacturers of the city are practically unanimously behind the organization, giving freely of window space for recruiting posters and urging selected employees to join the regiment in order that they may be represented in the ranks of the new regiment.

It is expected that a prompt reply will be received from Washington to General Cox's wire, when the muster-in of the completed units will take place promptly at the auditorium armory.

One battalion of the regiment will be distributed by companies among the Georgia towns near Atlanta. Already a score or more applications for allocation of these units have been received and once the locations are decided upon these out-of-town companies will fill their ranks as quickly as Atlanta is filling the ranks of her two battalions and other regimental headquarters units, officials believe.

This Bank always makes me feel at Home

Frequently we hear this. Many of our customers go further and tell us what a comfortable and comforting feeling it is to do business with a bank whose officers and employees all think in terms of good service to customers—a bank that is more concerned about having a host of friends than about a staggering capitalization.

In every city, there's some bank that's famous for its cheerful, every-day folksy atmosphere. In Atlanta, it's the Fulton National.

Here men who come to borrow—men who come to deposit—men and women who come to save, all who come for counsel and help, show that they like to come thru our door because they know that each of them is to us, not a money symbol, but an individual, a customer, and we like to think, a friend.

We render every type of banking service. Commercial, Savings or Trust. No account is too small for our genuine personal interest. Our officers will be glad to meet you—to know you and have you know them. It's you that counts and not the size of your account.

REED ANSWERS QUERY ON KU KLUX ISSUE

Supporters of Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, who has been mentioned as a possible candidate in the Georgia presidential preference primaries on March 19, on Tuesday gave out copies of letters exchanged between Carl F. Hutcheson, Atlanta attorney, and Senator Reed, with reference to the latter's attitude on the Ku Klux Klan.

Ku Klux Klan asked the Missouri attorney if press reports of speeches of his in which he was said to have attacked the Klan, were correct. In his reply Senator Reed stated his position on the general principles affected and said that he expects to be in Georgia "in the near future" and if it is desired, will state his position fully at that time.

Letters in Full.

Attorney Hutcheson's letter to Senator Reed follows:
Atlanta, Ga. February 6, 1924. Hon. James A. Reed, United States senator, Washington, D. C. Dear Sir: As there are thousands of Georgians interested in your attitude relative to seeking the nomination for the democratic party, upon the requests of hundreds here, who were very favorably inclined to you, I am asking you the direct question as to whether press reports which appeared three or four days ago here, are true as to your declaration against the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. I am not a member of this organization, but am seeking this information for my friends.

Thanking you for a prompt reply, I beg to remain, very truly yours,
CARL F. HUTCHESON.

Senator Reed's reply follows:
Washington, D. C. February 12, 1924. Hon. Carl F. Hutcheson, attorney at law, Atlanta, Ga. Dear Mr. Hutcheson: The press of business in the senate has rendered an answer to your letter at an earlier date impossible.

You ask me whether the press reports as to declarations regarding Ku Klux Klan are correct. As I do not know what the press reports were, I am unable to answer that question. However, I expect to be in Georgia in the near future and if it is desired, will state my position fully and explicitly at that time.

For the present I content myself with saying—you are at liberty to quote me. I believe absolutely in the doctrines of civil and religious liberty and in complete disavowal of church and state. Civil liberty implies that every citizen shall be entitled to the full protection of law, including the right to a trial in court as to all his civil rights. No self-constituted tribunal has the right under our constitution and laws to interfere with the rights of the citizens nor in any manner to usurp the powers and functions of the duly constituted authorities. Religious liberty implies the right of every human being to worship God according to the dictates of his conscience and with the exercise of this right there should be no interference. Neither should any person be proscribed or persecuted on account of his religious beliefs. Neither should there be proscription of the Jews on account of their race or religion. The great Caucasian race composed of many nationalities and many creeds has established here a government devoted to liberty. Respectfully,
JAMES A. REED.

Clash Predicted In Today's Meet Of City Council

With Girls' High school and alleged irregularities in the construction department scheduled for consideration, a stormy session of council this afternoon was forecast. Tuesday, City hall political observers were widely at variance in predicting the result.

The session was called by Mayor Walter A. Sims, at the request of the board of education, to rush through Girls' High school contracts on which the city holds options and which expire March 1. If work on completing the building is not started immediately, school officials say, the building cannot possibly be ready for occupancy by the beginning of the fall term in September.

Two definite proposals will be submitted to the session, each with a considerable backing. One, from the school board, will ask approval of the open contracts without further delay, based on the new 1924 budget which will close down the schools September 1. The other, from Councilman W. B. Saunders, calls for appointment of a joint committee of three each from the school board and council to effect immediate changes in the city and school budgets with a view to building the high school without closing the schools in September.

Budget Differences.
The school board announced last fall that, regardless of whether Girls' High was built, the schools could not operate after September unless a substantial increase was made in the school income. The first budget adopted by the board would, its advocates said, force schools to close in October even without providing for building Girls' High. The latest budget would build Girls' High and close schools September 1, it is pointed out.

Councilman Saunders said that he would fight any plan which would threaten curtailment of the school year. He said that no certainty existed that more money could be provided for schools in addition to the $2,800,000 in the latest budget, and that proposal of the council finance committee to ask a 25-cent increase in taxes this year for schools, was not sure of going through.

Many councilmen were outspoken in support of the school board plan to build Girls' High and take a chance on getting more money to keep schools open. Both the board of education and the city council are morally obligated to build a high school, which was used as the basis of argument in carrying the $4,000,000 school bond issue three years ago, it is asserted.

Board Criticized.
These council members, however, were equally outspoken in condemning the school board for expending bond money without making provision for Girls' High, saying that it left the new school for one building as a rich over council and the people to secure either more revenue or a new bond issue.

Construction department charges were to be referred directly to the street committee for investigation. The charges were made to Mayor Sims from a source he has declined to reveal and were to effect a change of Construction William A. Hansell had approved payment to MacDougall Construction company of $3,000 more money for the boys' street sewer extension than the contract called for. Chief Hansell reiterated Tuesday that he welcomed a searching investigation of charges, declaring that the facts would vindicate him of any blame for the alleged over-payment.

Councilman J. A. White, of the fourth ward, was to launch the movement for solving permanent school department difficulties by seeking charter amendment to reduce the size of the school board and restrict its authority so as to prevent a recurrence of the crisis facing the schools this year.

To Consider Raises.
Council also will consider the finance committee's action Tuesday in raising electrical inspectors' wages $10 a month. The committee Tuesday made appropriations of $6,000 for the annual campaign now in progress and adjusted the January finance sheet to provide pay of 30 cents instead of 26 cents an hour for construction department teamsters.

The finance committee heard a new appeal from President John T. Hancock, of the school board, for more school money, but did not take action on the appeal.

S. G. Dale, Accident Victim, Holder of Constitution Policy

Happiness has fled the home of S. G. Dale, 50-year-old contractor of Hapeville, following his sudden death in an automobile accident near Atlanta last Friday night.

But Mr. Dale was the holder of one of The Constitution's $1,000 Travel and Pedestrian Accident Insurance policies—so hope remains to those who were dependent upon him.

The tragic death of Mr. Dale was a striking illustration of the suddenness with which any man, woman or child may find life snuffed out like a candle flame in the wind. He was rounding a curve when he suddenly lost control of his automobile—whether through a heart attack or inability to hold the steering wheel cannot be determined—and his car turned turtle, pinning him beneath the wreckage and killing him instantly.

Circumstances now indicate that his estate will receive $1,000 from The Constitution Travel and Pedestrian Accident insurance policy he held—a splendid protective policy for which he paid only $1 in addition to the annual subscription price of The Daily and Sunday Constitution.

Every man with a thought to the welfare of those dependent upon him should give heed to his example and avail himself of this wonderful protective opportunity, one unparalleled in the history of insurance. The Constitution's $1,000 Travel and Pedestrian Accident Insurance policy costs only $1, and it provides for payment of $1,000 in case of death from certain accidents, payment of various sums for injuries and $10 weekly for disability.

A totally different, but equally sensational offer is found in The Constitution's $500 Group Reader Life Insurance service, the only life insurance offer made by an Atlanta newspaper. Under this offer, readers may secure policies for 15 or 20 cents per week, depending upon the type of insurance desired.

In other words, this $500 life insurance policy, together with your usual Daily and Sunday Constitution, is available for only five cents per day, a sum many people spend for their daily soft drink. It is as thoroughly efficient as it is economical, and it is personally vouched for by The Atlanta Constitution. Hundreds of wise and thoughtful readers are taking advantage of these unprecedented protective offers made by The Constitution. If you are wise you will lose no time in applying for full particulars at the insurance department of The Constitution.

WATKINSON NAMED TO SUCCEED L. A. IRONS

William Watkinson, of Atlanta, has been appointed deputy insurance commissioner to succeed Lewis A. Irons, resigned, according to announcement of William A. Wright, state comptroller general.

Mr. Watkinson for the past several years has been connected with the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, it was stated. He will take office March 2.

Silk Dresses That Have Captured Their Smart Styles from More Expensive Frocks

They don't look like $15 dresses—not a bit. Do you know why? Because they've been modeled after dresses that were designed by clever style artists—from dresses that sold for twice and thrice the price of these. Just notice the style cleverness of these, for example:

There's a demure little afternoon frock of gray satin crepe, the simplicity of which is its chief charm. Running from the hem up over the shoulder and around the armhole is a double row of knife pleated frilling—and that is its only trimming.

A sports frock is made of spiral crepe in a loose, straightline style with a narrow sash and a boyish Bobby collar. The skirt of this frock is composed of alternating bands of white and green crepe.

And here's a ribbon dress. That is, it has a foundation of Georgette that shows over the shoulder, but from the bust to the hem it is just one row after another of inch-wide moire ribbon. This frock hasn't even a belt.

And there are flannel dresses with checks and overplaids, and dresses that are draped to one side and held with a fancy ornament, dresses that have long sleeves of pleated, bright colored Georgette, and dresses that have no sleeves at all—dresses to dance in, to tea in, to golf in and to Mah Jongg in—dresses for practically every wear—in the most wanted colors of the season.

Harris Claims Wife Is Woman Of Underworld

New York, February 26.—Trial of the suit brought by Beverly D. Harris, elderly prominent banker, to annul his marriage to Eleanor Elaine Lee Harris, to whom his counsel referred to as "a woman of the underworld" who palmed herself off as a member of one of the most aristocratic families of the southland, was begun today in supreme court.

After the selection of a jury Mr. Harris' attorneys launched into a detailed account of the manner in which, according to Harris, he was intrigued into marriage with "the beautiful young woman who might be taken for his daughter instead of his wife." The charges were categorically denied by counsel for the wife.

The opening addresses to the jury developed an unusual situation in which the defense attorneys admitted that the wife had been in the company of a man known as "Clamp" who was a member of the underworld.

STATE OF NEW YORK—County of New York.

Personally appeared before the undersigned Whitney Palache, U. S. Manager, who, being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is the U. S. Manager of The Palatine Insurance Co., Ltd., and that the foregoing statement is correct and true.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 19th day of February, 1924.

and attempted to prove that their child was the illegitimate daughter of Elmer Harris, with whom Mr. Harris charged she had improper relations. It was chiefly upon this charge that suit was based. The plaintiff's counsel on the other hand attempted to prove her legitimacy. In the latter argument Mrs. Harris' birth date was placed in 1887, while her attorney declared she was 8 or 9 years younger.

Lee Had No Daughter.

Harris met Eleanor Elsie Lee in Memphis, Tenn., his attorneys said, and she told him she was the daughter of Stacker Lee, one of the Lees who operated the famous Lee line of Mississippi river jacks. He became enamored of her, and when, later, she informed him by telegram from Kansas City that she was ill and wanted him, he joined her and married her next day. Time came when the incompatibility of their temperaments caused them to separate. Attorneys said the husband told one of his friends in Memphis he was sorry. "I'm truly sorry that we have separated," Mr. Harris was said to have told the friend, "for she is a daughter of Stacker Lee and a fine woman."

The friend then informed Mr. Harris that Stacker never had a daughter, and upon this information Mr. Harris started an investigation in Memphis that led to his efforts to annul his marriage. He declared he learned that she had been reported by Eli Rayner, who "never had done a lick of work in 25 years, save playing cards and engaging in other games of chance."

Denies Underworld Charge.

Rayner had been represented to him, the banker asserted, as his wife's uncle and a man of wealth and social standing.

Denying the contention of the plaintiff that his wife had been a woman of the underworld, Mrs. Harris' attorneys said she was born in 1893 or 1894, and that soon after her mother died she was placed in an orphanage so that at the time she was said to have been in the underworld of Memphis she was only 14 or 15 years old. Rayner, the defense said, had befriended the girl's mother and promised to take care of her and she had known him as her uncle.

They charged Harris had conspired against his wife to be rid of her. His information about her earlier life was furnished, they declared, by a policeman in Memphis who had been discharged from the force.

Tells of Wild Life.

Depositions of a number of witnesses for the plaintiff were read. One of these, signed by Mrs. Marjorie Saunders, of Memphis, said she had roomed with Mrs. Harris when she was an inmate of the Monroe Hotel, orphanage at Nashville. Mrs. Saunders said six years later she met Elaine Lee in Memphis and was taken to her apartment in the Gehring hotel, where her former orphan chum told her she had been abroad for several months with a man and asked her not to tell her minister how she had been living.

Some of the other depositions were from Mrs. J. W. Kirk, Mrs. H. O. Morris and Joe M. Street, all of "Clarksville, Tenn." who told of having known Mrs. Harris when she was a small girl in Clarksville.

First Farm Bill

Ready Thursday

For Consideration

Washington, February 26.—The McNary-Hugger bill proposing creation of a $100,000,000 farm product export corporation will be reported to the senate Thursday as the first of the several major farm relief measures under preparation in the present session of congress.

The senate agricultural committee, by a vote of ten to two, has authorized Senator McNary, republican, Oregon, to report the bill with its endorsement, after several weeks of hearings in which delegations from all the wheat producing states appeared for and against the proposed legislation.

Drawn by Senator McNary in cooperation with Chairman Hugger, republican, Iowa, of the house agricultural committee, the bill was introduced by the Northwestern Cooperative Wheat Marketing association and other principal farm organizations. It proposes that the corporation set up under its provision be empowered to market abroad the "exportable surplus" of staple farm products, particularly wheat and livestock, and to charge back to the grower the difference between the foreign price and a "ratio price" to be established from time to time.

Santa Barbara Is Threatened By Forest Fire

Santa Barbara, Calif., February 26.—A forest fire burning on the edge of the Santa Barbara national forest in the suburbs of this city tonight had destroyed one home in the fashionable Montecito district and was burning toward other homes in Santa Barbara. All available men were being conscripted to fight the flames which were beyond control and burning fiercely.

At 7 o'clock a 30-room resort hotel, known as La Pal, was destroyed by the flames which rapidly spread to the Eaton home. The Eaton home was saved by its stone construction. The L. Haynes estate was attacked next and a half dozen small buildings and outbuildings destroyed. The fire was spreading at 8 o'clock with a number of homes in its path.

Jealous Lover Killed Duffys, Police Believe

Chicago, February 26.—When William Engleke is found, the key to the slaying last Friday of Joan Duffy and Maybelle Leach Exley, who lived with him as his wife, will be solved, Harold Levy, assistant state's attorney in charge of the investigation of the slayings, announced tonight after several more persons including relatives of Engleke, had been questioned.

Some of the persons questioned said Duffy and Engleke had showered at tentons on the same girl; others told of hearing Engleke say the day Duffy's body was found in a snow-bank at Argo, Ill., and the woman's bullet riddled body was found in Duffy's flat that "there is going to be an explosion at Duffy's flat soon, and one witness told of a hurried attempt by Engleke to borrow money on the day the bodies were found.

The police also started a search late today for Michael Cronan and Louis Raglin, both of Louisville, Ky., an information that both knew Duffy well.

Detectives left today for New Orleans to bring back Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Horton and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Curtis, arrested yesterday. Warrants charging them with being accessories to the slayings were carried by the officers.

Chester, Creator Of Wallingford, Dies Suddenly

New York, February 26.—George Randolph Chester, author and playwright, died early today.

Mr. Chester left home at an early age and engaged in various occupations. Beginning newspaper work as a reporter on The Detroit News he rose to become one of the nation's most popular writers of fiction.

"Get Rich Quick Wallingford" and "Blackie Daw" were two of his most famous fictional characters. He wrote a number of books and plays in collaboration with his wife, Lillian Chester. Mr. Chester was 55 years old.

Mr. Chester and his wife worked late last night on a new story. Shortly after midnight he complained of pains in his chest and Mrs. Chester applied hot towels. But the hot applications failed to relieve him and he took a hot bath and retired, joking with Mrs. Chester about his pains.

Shortly before 5 o'clock this morning Mr. Chester sat up in his bed, awakened his wife and said to her: "You know, dear, I love you."

He fell back upon his pillow. His wife did not think him dead and attempted to revive him. Failing, she called the superintendent of the apartment house, James Schultz, and he summoned an ambulance.

Mr. Chester died of a heart attack.

Recently, Schultz said, Mr. Chester came home and started running up the stairs.

"I said, 'Gosh, Mr. Chester, but you're spry.' And he told me he had just taken out $100,000 life insurance. The doctors told him he was good for fifty years more."

Mr. Chester was born in Cincinnati. After his entrance into newspaper work in Cincinnati he returned to his home city and became Sunday editor of The Cincinnati Enquirer. While in this position he became interested in syndicated matter. His first story, whom he married in Davenport, Iowa, in 1895, encouraged him to place stories he had written on the market and they were readily purchased.

He received $2.50 for his first piece of fiction. His second piece was rejected by seven magazines before it was accepted by a popular weekly publication. The first story, "Blackie Daw," was published in 1896. He obtained a decree of divorce and the custody of the two children in October, 1911. Shortly after Mr. Chester was married to Lillian Doreen, a former close friend of his wife, who had been named co-respondent in the divorce suit.

Girl Who Killed Matron To Escape Pen Captured

Indianapolis, Ind., February 26.—Glady Ellis, alias Katherine Rodgers, aged 23, whose escape from the Indiana woman's prison here was discovered today shortly after the finding of the body of Miss Louise Richards, aged 70, a teacher and matron at the prison, whose skull had been fractured by a blow on the head, was captured here tonight.

The young woman was taken in custody by a detective as she stepped from a taxi cab at a downtown corner where she had made an engagement to meet a young man. When captured, detectives found a bunch of keys to the prison belonging to the slain matron and also other property of Miss Richards. Miss Ellis was brought to police headquarters in a hysterical condition and officials at an early hour were unable to obtain any information from her regarding the slaying.

Miss Richards' body was found by a nurse who went to investigate when the teacher failed to report for breakfast. Miss Richards was lying on her back, her hands and feet bound with strips torn from a skirt. The strips also were bound tightly around the teacher's neck and the loose ends stuffed into her mouth as a gag. There was a jagged wound over the left eye as if she had been struck by the bunch of keys she usually carried.

Entwined about the fingers of the left hand were strands of hair and a piece of a torn hair net, indicating Miss Richards had made a futile effort to protect herself. The bedroom of Miss Richards, located across a hall from the room in which the Ellis girl was confined in a cell as an incorrigible, was in disorder and it was found that a black hat and a plush coat, some money and the prison keys of Miss Richards were missing.

TOWN ROW STARTS OVER DISCHARGE OF SCHOOLMA'AM

Mound City, Kan., February 26.—When Superintendent H. H. Gear discharged Mrs. J. W. Harpending, a high school teacher, he unwittingly started a row which has split the town in two factions.

There already is a demand for the resignation of Fred Brown, W. L. Wimmer, and James Carson, three school directors, by one faction and "more hair will fly before this is all over" is the attitude of the other faction who is thinking of demanding a few resignations itself.

PRESIDENT OPPOSES BIG MONEY MEASURES

Washington, February 26.—The numerous bills pending in congress calling for large appropriations are regarded by President Coolidge as disturbing to the prosperity and welfare of the country.

Enactment of these measures in the opinion of the president would go far toward destroying prosperity and creating a situation from which the country would be long in recovering.

A survey of the various bills involving appropriations which have been introduced has convinced the president that their enactment would call for appropriations larger than the entire expenditures of the government outside of the postoffice department before the war.

Among the measures which Mr. Coolidge regards as inimicable to the country's welfare are those calling for increased compensation for officials, pensions, the bonus and for grants of money to numerous special classes. If such bills are enacted the president believes the budget system would be broken down and a departure taken from what he considers a wise policy of holding the executive responsible for the financial state of the nation.

"Was there any evasion on his part when you asked him for the money?" inquired the manager. "None, sir," replied the collector. "The evasion was all on my side. He tried to kick me out."—Toronto Telegram.

Man, Girl-Mother Held on Charges Of Robbing House

Rome, Ga., February 26.—(United News.)—Police here, it might be said, have been very busy lately. They have arrested a man, a girl and a mother on charges of robbing a house.

The only tip they had was a pair of socks which Adams had left in the home of Will Harris here, after he had taken a newer and better pair from Harris' wardrobe.

Adams is a girl of many homes, she told the officers, claiming Atlanta, Chattanooga and other southern cities as her "home town." Married at 14, her husband abandoned her and for the last year she has masqueraded in men's clothing and "rode the rodeo" when she felt in the mood of traveling, she confessed.

Blackheads Go Quick By This Simple Method

Blackheads—big ones or little ones—soft ones or hard ones—on any part of the body, go quick by a simple method that just dissolves them. To do this get about two ounces of calomel powder from your druggist—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds—and wash off. You'll wonder where the blackheads have gone. Pinching and squeezing blackheads only open the pores of the skin and leave them large and unsightly—while the simple application of calomel powder and the water dissolve them right out, leaving the skin soft and the pores in their natural condition.—(adv.)

ATTACK ON M'ADOO INSERTED IN RECORD

Washington, February 26.—William McAdoo's candidacy for the democratic presidential nomination became the vehicle for a parliamentary skirmish today in the senate.

Senator Moses, republican, New Hampshire, wanted to insert into the Congressional Record a newspaper abstract of an address delivered at St. Louis last night by Senator Wood of Missouri, also a candidate for the democratic presidential nomination, who attacked Mr. McAdoo for his legal services to E. L. Doheny and Charles W. Morse.

Democratic Leader Robinson twice blocked the move, but the New Hampshire senator was insistent and finally read the abstract to the senate, explaining that he was "wholly unwilling that the readers of the Congressional Record should lose the vigorous phraseology" which the Missouri senator had used at St. Louis.

When Senator Moses concluded, Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, retorted by reading an article from a Portland, Ore. newspaper quoting Senator Stanford, republican, Oregon, as saying that Mr. McAdoo had been given a "bill of health" in the old matter.

Then Senator Harrison obtained unanimous consent to place into the Congressional Record newspaper abstracts of addresses by Senator Johnson of California, a candidate for the republican presidential nomination, in which he attacked the record of the present administration.

Later Senator Robinson criticized Senator Moses for attempting to place in the Record Senator Reed's speech. While posing as a "spectator" of the Congressional Record, he said, Senator Moses had set a precedent for inserting candidates' campaign speeches.

Senator Robinson added that Senator Moses had demonstrated an important distinction—"that democratic cabinet members, when they want to make money, get out of the cabinet, while republican cabinet members, when they want to make money, get into the cabinet."

$25,000 For Plan To Instill EDUCATIONAL, NOT POLITICAL, PREVENTIVE SOUGHT Hatred of War in Children

Chicago, February 26.—A reward of $25,000 awaits the man or woman who invents a plan to throttle war by teaching the children of all nations to hate and oppose it.

Details of this offer, partially disclosed Tuesday, will be presented in full Wednesday to the 12,000 teachers attending the annual conference of the National Education association.

Disclosure of the new peace award, whose donor believes it will attack the war menace by education more effectively than the political devices of the Edward Bok proposals, quite overshadowed the scheduled events on the N. E. A. program.

Three methods were outlined by Dr. A. O. Thomas, of Augusta, Me., who speaks on behalf of the unknown donor of the $25,000. He suggested the following, or combinations or modifications of them:

1. Direct classroom instruction.
2. Formulation of a code of children's ethics.
3. Alteration in classroom organization.

Many of the teachers expect to submit plans in competition for the $25,000. The identity of the man behind the offer will not be revealed until the winner is announced, he said, however, to be a Detroit banker, now retired and living in California most of each year.

Any man, woman or child in the world is eligible to submit plans, which must reach Mr. Thomas at Augusta by July 1, 1924, in writing not to exceed 5,000 words. Otherwise the offer is without limitations.

"Our idea is to find a plan which will instill into the children some conception of the necessity for concord among the nations, and for a world command of friendship," explained Dr. Thomas. "Peace is a difficult thing to achieve through the older generations. They have grown up in acceptance of the war idea. Our aim is not to break down any national ideals or pull down any flags."

Behind this dominant development of the day, the teachers continued enthusiastically to gird themselves for a fight against threatening restriction of educational appropriation, and on behalf of a broader school program, including a cabinet portfolio of education. The "platform" or rotating classroom school was espoused by the teachers. The Rough of California declared that youth has gone a healthy distance in the direction of revolt, and must now be taught to respect for authority and obedience.

PETERS IS FREED AS CHEMISTS FIND NO POISON TRACE

Macon, Ga., February 26.—(Special.)—Robert Peters, who has been held in the Bibb county jail since February 5, charged with the slaying of F. Marion Crawford, was ordered released this afternoon by Solicitor Charles H. Garrett, after chemists reported that no trace of poison could be found in Crawford's viscera.

The state had based its case on the theory that Crawford had been poisoned by Peters while they were hunting together on the former's farm near Macon, December 13.

Crawford died after revealing symptoms that indicated poison. He is said to have vomited grapes which it was alleged Peters had given him. The verdict of the coroner's jury, which had been withheld pending the result of the chemical analysis, will be made tomorrow.

McCord's Bulletin

What Ails Georgia?

The census of 1920 shows relatively fewer owners among white farmers in Georgia than in any other state.

In forty years the proportion has fallen from two-thirds to less than half.

There has been a general decline of ownership in the cotton and grain regions during that time and the lowest is found in these states:

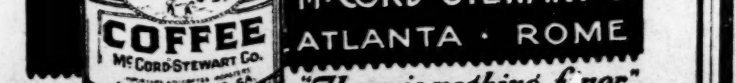

Georgia	47.7	Alabama	55.9
Oklahoma	48.3	Nebraska	56
Texas	49.7	Iowa	57
S. Carolina	53.7	Kansas	58.7

The average of the South Atlantic states is higher because of better conditions in North Carolina and Virginia. The New England states have the highest ownership, 89.5 per cent, the Mountain states 83, the Pacific 78, the Middle Atlantic 77, the East North Central 70, the South Atlantic 65.1, the West North Central 64.8, the East South Central 63.2, the West South Central 53.

The tendency towards tenancy has been general throughout most of the country during the last forty years. It is most marked in Georgia, which in many other respects has been among the most progressive of southern commonwealths. The same is true of Texas and Iowa, both of which have great agricultural development.

It is clear that there is some far reaching cause of this decline in ownership. It may be the one-crop systems in the south and west or the greater tendency to go in debt.

Probably both causes affect the result, but whatever the causes it is an ominous symptom that calls for serious reflection and determined effort for improvement.

ASSEMBLY BACKS GREEK PREMIER

Athens, February 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—The national assembly today voted confidence in the Kalandaris government. The vote was 233 to 106.

The political fortunes of former Premier Venizelos suffered another reverse today when for the first time since his recent illness he visited parliament and tried to induce the Kalandaris government to agree to a referendum proposal that the dynamic and constitutional questions be decided by the national assembly subject to the confirmation by a referendum.

M. Venizelos was influenced by the military leaders who want the dynasty abolished by action of the assembly only and who will refuse to abide by the result in event the official referendum should favor a retention of the monarchy. Some of the military party have even threatened a military dictatorship.

A large influx of people from towns and sections where vaccination is compulsory is responsible for the amount of smallpox in Athens at present, Dr. Kennedy said.

Transcontinental Mail Service Fund Restored to Bill

Washington, February 26.—An appropriation of $1,500,000 for continuing the transcontinental airplane mail service was restored to the treasury-postoffice appropriation bill by the senate appropriations committee in reporting the bill today to the senate.

The house had failed to provide the appropriations which would continue the air mail between New York and San Francisco via Chicago and Omaha.

A total of $738,867,000 is carried by the bill as compared with $729,000,000 as voted by today. Among the other increases recommended by the senate committee was $2,500,000 for collecting customs revenue, urged by Secretary Mellon. $1,000,000 additional for internal revenue collections; $416,000 for maintenance of postoffices and $300,000 for foreign mail transportation.

No change was made by the committee in the appropriations of $10,629,000 for enforcement of the prohibition and narcotic drug laws.

U. S. RATIFIES TREATY WITH NETHERLANDS

Washington, February 26.—A treaty of arbitration between the United States and the Netherlands was ratified today by the senate.

SMALLPOX THREAT BRINGS DRASTIC HEALTH MEASURES

A smallpox campaign appropriation of $6,000 was made by council finance committee Tuesday at the request of Dr. J. P. Kennedy who informed the committee that, while no alarming epidemic has developed, there are now more cases of smallpox in the city than in several years past and drastic action was necessary to insure the city against a violent outbreak.

Immediately after securing the appropriation, Dr. Kennedy organized a vaccination battalion of 24 physicians and 18 policemen and launched a house to house canvass during which every resident of Atlanta who has not already been vaccinated, or had the disease, will be vaccinated.

The battalion was divided into two detachments, each following the same plan. Every block in which a case of smallpox has been reported is to be "raided" by doctors and policemen, a police line thrown around it and maintained by a cordon of policemen who will prevent anyone from going in or out while the doctors make a search of each house in the block to inoculate all persons who have not been immunized.

A large influx of people from towns and sections where vaccination is compulsory is responsible for the amount of smallpox in Atlanta at present, Dr. Kennedy said.

LUDENDORFF TRIAL IS TAKEN LIGHTLY

Munich, Bavaria, February 26.—(Special.)—Field Marshal Ludendorff, Adolf Hitler, leader of the Bavarian fascists, and seven other defendants were placed on trial today for their connection with the "putsch" of last November. All of the defendants except one are charged with high treason.

The friendly atmosphere in which the trial began was noticeable. Hitler and Ludendorff chatted amiably together, while the other accused men seemed not to take the trial seriously.

At the morning session the indictment against the accused was read. The president of the court also read a statement of the career of Hitler, who stood and replied to questions put to him. The president laid particular stress on Hitler's war career, saying he had voluntarily joined the Bavarian army and had been wounded twice and gassed once. Hitler corrected the president by declaring that he received only one wound.

The afternoon session was taken up by Hitler's statement to the court, in which he related his share in the "putsch." He declared that he was not guilty of treason. He denounced the conduct of Dr. Von Kahr, the Bavarian dictator, at the same time and of General Von Lossow, commander of the Bavarian reichswehr.

After Hitler had concluded his statement an adjournment was taken until tomorrow.

MISSING GIRL'S UNCLE ARRIVES TO AID IN SEARCH

H. C. Tunnell, of Birmingham, arrived in Atlanta Tuesday to aid officials in solving the disappearance ten days ago of his niece, Jessie Tunnell, pretty 19-year-old blonde, of 43 East Cain street. He was closeted with various officers Tuesday at the Cecil hotel but stated that no traces of the young woman had been found.

The pretty girl is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Greene, 43 East Cain street, and disappeared early Monday night, February 17. Members of her family stated that she appeared in excellent spirits and can assign no possible motive for her failure to return home after a "short walk," unless she met with foul play.

SOUSA'S BAND PLAYS TWO CONCERTS TODAY

John Philip Sousa and his world-famous band will arrive in Atlanta today at noon, coming from Macon on a special train, for concerts at 3 and 8:30 o'clock at the Auditorium. Indications are that the "march king," his eight soloists and eighty-five bandmen will be greeted by tremendous audiences.

Lieutenant-Commander Sousa and some of his principals will go at once to the Piedmont hotel, where they will be greeted by distinguished Atlantans, including officers of the army and navy and marines, for Mr. Sousa is held in high regard for his patriotic services and is himself an officer in the reserve corps.

One of the features of the evening concert will be the presentation to Governor Clifford M. Walker of the original manuscript of the "King Cotton March," written by Mr. Sousa while he was conducting his band at the Cotton States exposition in Atlanta in 1895. The manuscript has been especially bound in Morocco, and a suitable inscription embossed upon the leather in gold.

A real "musical carnival" will mark the evening concert, with three branches of the service being done to Lieutenant-Commander Sousa. The band of the 22d infantry will join his famous musicians in the finale, "The Stars and Stripes, Forever," and the national colors will be borne down the aisle by an escort of men from the army, navy and marines.

Governor Walker and his staff, Colonel D. W. Ryther and his staff from Fort McPherson, and other dignitaries will occupy the boxes at Mr. Sousa's guests.

A feature of the matinee concert will be the playing of the Tech High School band, led by Mr. Sousa, who especially invited the school organization to "see how a real band works." Tickets will be on sale at the Phillips & Crew store until 6 o'clock, when the sale for the night performance will be transferred to the Auditorium box office. Two distinct programs will be given at the two concerts with different soloists.

Lower Prices for Stocks Is Prediction of Barnum

BY R. L. BARNUM

New York, February 26.—Ananda broke three points following today's unexpected news that the directors had met and passed the dividend. Announcement was also made that starting March 3, Calumet and Hecla, which only a few days ago unexpectedly passed its dividend, would slip down to a five-day week. All copper shares were soft. The rest of the market set off, then, and the market went still lower. However, there was no pressure of selling despite the fact that a great majority of professional traders are bearish. The big outside public, fearing unfavorable news developments from the oil investigation, is not buying any stocks. Under such conditions it would not be surprising if still lower prices are witnessed in the next few days or until the market becomes overbought.

Ananda has recently made a large increase in its outstanding stock and dividend requirements by buying back first of the American Brass company at a high price and then the Chile Copper company. Primarily, however, the action of both Ananda and Calumet and Hecla directors in passing dividends is based on fundamental conditions in the copper trade. When the war broke out copper metal was selling for 13 cents a pound. Since then labor costs have increased not less than 60 per cent. But today copper is still selling at 13 cents. Low-production South American copper companies can make money at 13 cents copper. But high production companies cannot. This means that while the South American competitors are making money the American companies are losing it. Wall Street believes that in the next few days, then, the market will be still lower. However, there was no pressure of selling despite the fact that a great majority of professional traders are bearish. The big outside public, fearing unfavorable news developments from the oil investigation, is not buying any stocks. Under such conditions it would not be surprising if still lower prices are witnessed in the next few days or until the market becomes overbought.

Another surprise of the day was the news that Studebaker directors have decided to split up the stock to get a wider holding among the public and employees of the company. Last year when Studebaker was climbing to a new 1923 high record rumors of split were frequently heard and officially denied. For months, however, public fear had been heard of such a move when today's announcement provides for an exchange of each outstanding share having a par value of $100 for 2 1/2 shares of new stock with no par value. According to fundamental conditions in the copper trade, the dividend on the new stock will be $4 a year, or equivalent to the $10 now paid.

and cabalistic words they would be the most popular. "Look at me and I can point you to thousands of others who believe in my method. I am happy and healthy and free. You, who can't do a thing, can't tell me the thing is so marvelous that I am going to work for it the rest of my life," said the seer.

M. Coue speaks at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening in the Woman's club auditorium.

Coue Simplifies Way of Applying Healing Theory
EX-LYRIC IDOL
FACES RECORDER
JOHNSON TODAY

By PIERRE VAN PAESSEN
Emile Coue, the little chemist from Nancy, France, who won world-wide recognition as an apostle of suggestion and as the originator of the formula: "Every day in every way I am getting better and better," landed in Atlanta Tuesday for his lectures Wednesday at the Woman's club auditorium.

Not an inch above five feet, smiling, with a perpetual twinkle in his dark eyes, M. Coue drew himself up in one of the large fauteuils of the Georgian Terrace hotel and launched at once into an explanation of the theory that brought him suddenly out of a comparative obscurity into the full glare of the world's footlights.

For his name is not only a byword throughout France, Belgium and Switzerland, but he recently has made tours in England, Holland and the Scandinavian countries. Thousands upon thousands have testified to the benefits derived from his method of healing bodily and spiritual ills and although he is 70 years old, he intends to devote "many and many years to the propagation of this simple doctrine."

Bodily ills, disease and afflictions of the body, M. Coue has no terror to Emile Coue. That unobtrusive, quiet little man, who hunches himself up like a dwarf and rubs his hands in merriment, has the happiest outlook on life that could be encountered.

Unchanged By Fame.
Speaking with the rapidity of a northern Frenchman, and taking his time in the use of the French language, M. Coue has remained unchanged and uninfluenced by the glamor of fame and prominence which have come to him since the close of the war.

He has the inherent wit of all Frenchmen and answers the problems of life with a characteristic shrug of the shoulders and a jolly remark. The old formula has lost nothing of its power, according to M. Coue. There is only one difference in its application.

"The first time I was in America I told people that they must concentrate on the formula and must believe implicitly in its curative powers. Now I tell my hearers this is not necessary any longer. Just repeat the formula mechanically without giving the least thought to your bodily ills and it will function just the same," he explained.

"Here is the way to practice conscious self-suggestion," said the little man, smiling and chuckling: "Every morning before rising and every evening, as soon as you are in bed, shut your eyes and without trying to fix your attention on what you are saying, repeat in a soft, low voice, but loud enough to hear yourself, while counting mechanically or a string furnished with 20 knots, the following phrase: 'Every day in every way I am getting better and better.'"

Theory Is Extended.
"It is not necessary to formulate any particular demand as the words in every way apply to everything and cover a multitude of things. 'Make this self-suggestion in a very simple, child-like, mechanical way, without any effort. In that way you succeed in introducing into your subconscious mind through the ear, the idea of amelioration or cure. Follow this method all your life long, for it not only cures diseases, but also will prevent them from coming."

"Further, every time in the course of the day or night you feel any physical, moral or mental distress, immediately make up your mind that you will not consciously contribute to it, and that you are going to make it disappear, while counting mechanically or a string furnished with 20 knots, the following phrase: 'Every day in every way I am getting better and better.'"

Not Substitute for Medicine.
"I am no wizard, no worker of miracles. I bring a simple remedy. But nobody must expect a cure that auto-suggestion is a substitute for medical practice. It is a valuable aid to the doctor, but most of all to the patient."

"My secret is self-suggestion. I leave the patient to work it out for himself. And so it becomes a universal philosophy of great good. In which I play no part," he said modestly.

"Of course, I am a teacher, because men and people must be brought to see the secret. I did not always know the secret. I started practicing hypnosis in my pharmacy, but I found that suggestion is not enough; it must become auto-suggestion."

"With a little practice of my formula the result will be astonishing. Within 20 or 25 seconds the mental or moral distress should vanish. If it starts again, begin all over: 'It's going, it's going, it's going, and you'll find it's gone.'"

Doubt Because It Is Simple.
"It's extraordinary," his listeners remarked. "It's nothing of the sort; it's so simple that the merest child can do it." "People doubt and become cynical because it is so simple. If I could show you a whole lot of bogus people, they would be convinced."

OILS SEE LOSSES IN CURB MARKET

New York, February 26.—Another sharp break in the oil stocks on selling pressure inspired by the break on the big board was the feature of today's curb market. Industrialists offered more stubborn resistance and pressure, a number of the active favorites showing slight gains on the day.

A break of 9 points in Prairie Oil & Gas to 220 was the outstanding development in that group. Solar Refining broke 7 points and Borne and Strymer five, the latter failing to respond to the declaration of an extra dividend. Vacuum, which was strong yesterday, fell back 3 3/8 to 63 and losses of a point or more were recorded by a number of other issues including Standard Oil of Indiana, New York, Kentucky and Nebraska, Penn-Mex, Fuel Oil, Imperial of Canada and Humble.

Chief interest in the industrial group centered on the radio shares on the announcement that the radio corporation would start the payments on dividends on the preferred in July. Radio Corporation common advanced 1/2 point to 4 1/2 and 4-3/16 respectively, while Doubtful touched 21 1/2 and 21 1/4.

PLAN VOTE NEXT WEEK ON FORD'S SHOALS BID

Washington, February 26.—An attempt will be made to bring the Muscle Shoals bill before the House next week, according to a statement made by Representative McKelzie, Republican, Illinois, author of the bill, said he had asked the rules committee to give the measure priority with general debate limited to six hours instead of four as originally requested. He said that with the tax bill out of the way he was confident time would be allotted for disposition of the Muscle Shoals question during the week.

Chairman Snell, of the rules committee, said today that no decision would be reached as to priority for Muscle Shoals legislation until after the house votes on the revenue bill, probably the latter part of this week. He said there was no serious opposition in the committee to early consideration of the question, although it might be determined to give the appropriation bill right of way with Muscle Shoals the next general legislation to be considered.

RAY WILL PRODUCE OR REDUCE WEIGHT

Laviot and Vautier, who described to the Academy of Medicine the excellent results obtained when the rays were applied to a number of obese patients, bringing about a loss in weight of from 8 to 20 pounds after 20 applications. The same rays, used to tone up debilitated patients, caused them to put on flesh.

Pinchot Attack Is Called Silly In Palmer Reply

Washington, February 26.—Charges made by Governor Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, in an address in New York last night that the failure of A. Mitchell Palmer as attorney general to carry to the supreme court the government's land suit against the Southern Pacific Railroad company, was a case of "indefinite to public duty" was characterized as "silly" in a statement made by Mr. Palmer tonight.

The former attorney general declared that after the lower court had found "all the facts" in the case against the government, holding on the evidence that the railroad company did not know at the time it received the patent of land that it contained oil, all government counsel engaged in the case had recommended against an appeal. As the government had presented all the facts in its possession, and the court had made no ruling on the law adverse to the government, its counsel, he said, were of one mind that "there was nothing to appeal from."

Garland Dwyer of the Second congressional district, who died last week in Washington, it was learned today.

None of the political leaders who favored the candidacy of Mrs. Thompson would talk for publication but it was understood they were seeking the opinion of their followers and that, apparently there seemed to be a growing demand that she enter the race. Mrs. Thompson, it was said, had not been approached on the subject.

FORMER HUSBAND OF PEGGY JOYCE HELD

my company raised altogether, only about $25,000," he said.

Asked to confirm the report that he was formerly the husband of Peggy Hopkins Joyce, he said, "Well, yes, at one time. That was years ago."

Here, Two Weeks.

Hopkins came to Atlanta about two weeks ago, he said, after leaving his business affairs in the hands of an attorney in Houston. It was his intention to enter the automobile business here, he asserted.

Mr. Hopkins, the present Mrs. Hopkins and their 9-year-old son took up their residence at a fashionable boarding place in Peachtree place. At the residence Tuesday night, Mrs. Hopkins professed ignorance of her husband's business affairs.

"I am really not a business woman in any sense of the word," she said. "During the five years we lived in Houston I don't think I was in my husband's office more than five or six times."

"I think there will merely be an investigation of this affair and it will all be over. Everybody knows that when a company drills for oil and doesn't find any oil the company isn't to blame. At any rate, I intend to stick to him, regardless of what happens."

Hopkins was taken into custody as he emerged from a Peachtree street pharmacy by a United States Marshal John Jones, armed with the Texas warrant. He is said to have been located through the efforts of Postoffice Inspector Brill, of Baltimore, assigned to the postal investigation of oil frauds, and Postoffice Inspector Robert Tomlinson, of Atlanta.

NEGRO BURGLAR RESISTED ARREST, SHOT BY OFFICER

Henry Jackson, negro, was shot Tuesday night by Call Officer Henry Donahoe, while resisting arrest after being surprised in an attempt to burglarize the home of Mrs. S. L. Jones, 848 Myrtle street. Jackson attacked Officer Donahoe with an ice pick in one hand and an open knife in the other, when he and Officer Ed L. Arthur forced their way into a room where the negro had attempted to barricade himself.

Donahoe turned his flashlight on the negro and fired. The bullet entered Jackson's neck, and shattered his collar bone. After his wounds were dressed at Grady hospital, Jackson was taken to police station.

The negro was seen entering the house by a neighbor, Mrs. Robert Strickland, 344 Myrtle street, who called the police. Mrs. Jones is in Texas, visiting relatives, neighbors said.

"MYSTIC KNIGHTS" NAME JONES HEAD

second order of the Klan, had been deceived by Simmons, in that "recently, for a paltry sum of money, he sold the friendship of those who had suffered banishment" from the first order and entered the second order.

John R. Jones, of Kansas City, chosen as the chairman of the board of control, is said to be one of the most influential klansmen in the west. He was instrumental in recruiting 20,000 klansmen in his section, it is stated. If such action is recognized to be right, it will only be a question of time until the civil warfare, which has been going on at Herrin, and for which the Klan is responsible, will be duplicated everywhere in the United States.

The thirteen states represented at the congress were Missouri, North Carolina, Kansas, Maryland, Alabama, Tennessee, Ohio, Connecticut, Colorado, New York, Kentucky, Georgia and Texas. About twenty Georgia klans are said to have been represented.

The feature of the morning session was an address by E. Y. Clarke, former acting imperial wizard of the Klan and founder of the call for the congress. He was given an ovation when he appeared on the floor of the meeting.

Mr. Clarke explained that he could accept no office with the proposed new organization nor give suggestions as to how it should operate. However, he pledged himself to aid by advice and counsel after the order had been founded.

The real principles of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan are above reproach," he declared, "but klankraft as practiced in America today is not only reprehensible but it is fast becoming a menace to free speech, free press, individual liberty and democratic government. Unless conditions inside the organization change soon, a real storm is going to break around the heads of those klansmen who they may be, whether humble members or high officials, who are responsible for the degradation of the cause and the diverting of it from the channel in which it was intended to operate. The members of the organization today, whether they be active or inactive, instead of being 100 per cent Americans are showing themselves to be really and shamefully 100 per cent un-American citizens."

Instead of a bulwark and a protection to the nation, the organization as at present operated is rapidly becoming a real menace to the government and to the individual liberties of the citizen of this great country.

The present leaders of the organization are apparently bent upon making the organization simply a political machine to dominate national, state and local politics throughout the country and lawlessness is being engaged in whenever it is necessary for the Klan to accomplish its political designs. If such action is recognized to be right, it will only be a question of time until the civil warfare, which has been going on at Herrin, and for which the Klan is responsible, will be duplicated everywhere in the United States.

At the meeting of the governing board this morning the salaries of the temporary officers will be set.

Each Castle will arrange the yearly dues its members are to pay into the treasury. Of this sum a certain per cent will be paid for maintenance of national headquarters, while a per cent will be paid into the national organization treasury for maintenance of its offices and officers, and provisions will also be made for publishing an official organ of the order.

The members of the organization today, whether they be active or inactive, instead of being 100 per cent Americans are showing themselves to be really and shamefully 100 per cent un-American citizens."

Instead of a bulwark and a protection to the nation, the organization as at present operated is rapidly becoming a real menace to the government and to the individual liberties of the citizen of this great country.

The present leaders of the organization are apparently bent upon making the organization simply a political machine to dominate national, state and local politics throughout the country and lawlessness is being engaged in whenever it is necessary for the Klan to accomplish its political designs. If such action is recognized to be right, it will only be a question of time until the civil warfare, which has been going on at Herrin, and for which the Klan is responsible, will be duplicated everywhere in the United States.

At the meeting of the governing board this morning the salaries of the temporary officers will be set.

Each Castle will arrange the yearly dues its members are to pay into the treasury. Of this sum a certain per cent will be paid for maintenance of national headquarters, while a per cent will be paid into the national organization treasury for maintenance of its offices and officers, and provisions will also be made for publishing an official organ of the order.

Thirteen States Represented.

The thirteen states represented at the congress were Missouri, North Carolina, Kansas, Maryland, Alabama, Tennessee, Ohio, Connecticut, Colorado, New York, Kentucky, Georgia and Texas. About twenty Georgia klans are said to have been represented.

The feature of the morning session was an address by E. Y. Clarke, former acting imperial wizard of the Klan and founder of the call for the congress. He was given an ovation when he appeared on the floor of the meeting.

Mr. Clarke explained that he could accept no office with the proposed new organization nor give suggestions as to how it should operate. However, he pledged himself to aid by advice and counsel after the order had been founded.

The real principles of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan are above reproach," he declared, "but klankraft as practiced in America today is not only reprehensible but it is fast becoming a menace to free speech, free press, individual liberty and democratic government. Unless conditions inside the organization change soon, a real storm is going to break around the heads of those klansmen who they may be, whether humble members or high officials, who are responsible for the degradation of the cause and the diverting of it from the channel in which it was intended to operate. The members of the organization today, whether they be active or inactive, instead of being 100 per cent Americans are showing themselves to be really and shamefully 100 per cent un-American citizens."

Graduate Nurse Finds "The Perfect Remedy"

Graduate of National Temperance Hospital, Tells of Remarkable Cases Where TANLAC Has Proved Effective.

"From my long experience as a professional nurse, I do not hesitate to say I consider TANLAC the most efficient and natural stomach medicine and tonic to be had. It is undoubtedly Nature's most perfect remedy," is the far reaching statement given out by a graduate of the National Temperance Hospital, of Chicago.

"I have used TANLAC often in treatment of my patients and my experience has been that for keeping the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels functioning properly, and for toning up the system in general, it has no equal.

"Tells of Case. "About a year ago I had a lady patient who could not keep a thing on her stomach fifteen minutes, not even water. I prevailed on her to try TANLAC and after the sixth bottle she could eat absolutely anything she wanted without the slightest bad after effects.

"I had another patient who simply could not eat. I got him started on TANLAC and by the time he finished three bottles he was eating ravenously and had regained sufficient strength to return to work.

"These two instances are typical of my experience with TANLAC. My confidence in TANLAC is unlimited. TANLAC IS FOR SALE BY ALL GOOD DRUGGISTS. OVER 40 MILLION BOTTLES SOLD. ACCEPT NO SUBSTITUTE.

Wooden Wives

—By Laura Jean Libbey—

During the fortnight which followed, the senator's health improved rapidly; but he saw very little of Pauline, she was away with the French girl, her new found friend. At first he felt like resenting the presence of the stranger, but, as he saw her day after day, and noted how charmed his daughter was with her, he concluded she was a pleasing addition to the household. Marcelle did everything that the rest did not think of doing—to make him comfortable, thus earning his sincere gratitude.

At the end of the third week the senator announced to Pauline that she must prepare to accompany him west without delay; he had business interests which demanded his presence; he could see her safely to Oklahoma City.

In vain she protested that she would go; he was inexorable.

"It is your duty to go to your husband," he said reprovingly. "Daniel wants you; he needs you, he adores you—it seems to me you ought to be very proud of him. I am going to tell you a little secret—Pauline has been keeping from you—Weslow is running for United States senator—mark me, he will win, and my little girl will recognize as every one else does, that there are few like him. From the hour you wedded him I have never ceased thanking God for giving me this dear daughter-in-law."

"It is his vast wealth that will buy him the senatorial votes," replied Pauline with curling lip.

"If he had no money in the world he would be the choice of the people," defended her father warmly.

In the end, after much battling, Senator Rae acquiesced in leaving Pauline fairly forced into accompanying him on the trip west. It was decided Marcelle should remain as part and parcel of the home, much to the disgust of Mrs. Holt and the servants, everyone of whom entertained a secret dislike for her—a sentiment which Marcelle was well aware of.

"This French girl has bewitched the senator, as well as his daughter," said Mrs. Holt when she heard the decision; ever since she had been installed in the house there had been no love lost between them.

It had been a great disappointment to Daniel Weslow to return to his home in the West, leaving his bride behind him; but her will was law to him.

When he reached Oklahoma City, he saw, with dismay, that his town had gathered at the station, and blamed the telegraph dispatches for the mistake. There was great amazement among his fellow town-folks when he stepped from the train—alone.

The rousing welcome accorded him, the cheer and shouts of approval, proclaimed his great popularity. There and there he was obliged to mount a pile of boxes, and explain to the crowd the reason why Mrs. Weslow had not accompanied him. The cheers were renewed with vigor when he announced she would be along, in the course of three or four weeks—quite as soon as her father was able to accompany her.

Daniel would not accept the use of the automobile which was there for his use. "No, boys," he said, "I want to go to my home afoot, as I have always done; I want to stop and shake the hand of every old friend I meet. I want to pat the heads of the little ones, and kiss the cheeks of the young ones."

They gave him his way, but the cheering continued until the tall form was lost to sight in the distance. With one accord they agreed Daniel Weslow would surely win at the forthcoming election as the United States senator to be sent from Oklahoma to Washington.

Mrs. Benis, his housekeeper, was glad to see him, but, like the rest was surely disappointed that his bride was not with him; especially as he had telegraphed her was bringing home a wife—to be sure and have one of those fine hot, chicken dinners, which she knew so well how to cook—all ready. She had had a good cry over the telegram, after she had gotten over her surprise, and, ever since she wondered what the girl must be like who had won the big, wonderful heart of Mr. Daniel, as she called him. She thought the best woman the world held none too good for the noble man, whom she revered and loved as the apple of her eye. In early childhood his parents had passed away, leaving the little boy alone in the world. The widow Benis, who was raising her living by teaching the district school, took him in and cared for him.

In after years, when she was no longer able to earn her bread in this way, he repaid her years of kindness by caring for her when she needed care the most. She had been his counselor all those years, and now—since fortune had been showering such amazing wealth upon him, she was still his counselor and adviser.

The only secret he had ever kept from was the fact of his having met and loved Pauline Rae. No wonder his telegram had astounded her.

They sat down to the hot chicken dinner together, and over the meal—which she noticed he did not partake of with the same old relish, he gave her a faithful resume of all that had transpired.

"I am anxious to see what she is like," sighed Mrs. Benis wistfully. Daniel's hand traveled to his breast pocket—from which he took a bit of post-board wrapped in a silk handkerchief, handing it to her.

An exclamation of surprise broke from her lips when she took off the wrapping and her eyes rested on it. She beheld a snapshot of a young girl, fastening her dainty pump slipper, her foot resting upon the running board of an automobile.

Daniel colored like a penny, at the same time laughing heartily at Mrs. Benis' consternation.

"You see it was this way," he confessed—"I was a good one on me. I got a picture of Pauline; I aimed I'd get one somehow. I saw one of those fellows with a little black box in his hand—"

"A kodak, Mister Daniel," she interrupted.

"Yes, one of those things—taking pictures of those tall skyscrapers across the way—I paid him something pretty to take a snapshot of the senator's daughter when she should come down from her father's office and get into her car which stood there. The performance was staged all right—but just as he was pressing the button, she stooped down to tie her shoe—so there you are. Look at that trim ankle as tiny as your wrist. I've got the original now, so I don't need to try again for a picture of Pauline, though her face was completely covered by her floppy hat in this. Lord! how Pauline will laugh when I show her this!—It's a good one on me."

"You got just what you deserved for your impudence, Mister Daniel," she observed dryly, though much amused.

She realized how completely his heart was wrapped up in the girl as she listened to his description of her. She went aghast when he confided to her that he had made over to her his entire fortune, every penny of it, save a house for herself, and an income sufficient to keep her in comfort as long as she should live. You see I did not forget my debt to you, Mrs. Benis, nor my duty which was to set aside enough to make you independent of any one.

In her joy Mrs. Benis threw her arms about him, kissing him as she wept.

"You have been like an own son to me, Mr. Daniel," she sobbed. "May God bless you, and make your fortune as smooth for you, as you have made mine."

The good soul was greatly troubled that he had made over his fine fortune to this girl—but she dared not voice her thoughts, lest he should think that it may be all right; was her silent prayer.

During the days that followed, Daniel did not lose a day that he did not write to his darling Pauline—but to his dismay, and that of Mrs. Benis not so much as a line came to him in reply.

"She is busy looking after her father, God bless her," he explained. "She will be sure to write me tomorrow. But, day after day dragged their slow lengths by, still there was no word from Pauline."

"She may be ill," he declared at length, in alarm. "I can stand this suspense no longer; if I do not hear from her by the end of the week, I shall go to New York."

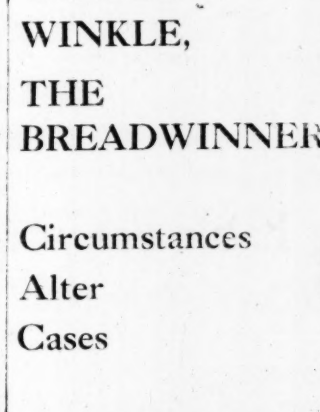

At this state of affairs, Mrs. Benis, who had found out from Daniel the address of Senator Rae, took it upon herself to end his suspense by sending a long telegram, not to Pauline, but to her father. This brought results.

Two days later Daniel was overjoyed to receive a despatch from the senator, stating, he and Pauline

Work To Be Started Tonight On New Auditorium Court; Tulane's Record Discussed

Telegrams have been received from all seventeen of the entries in the Southern Conference basketball tournament to the effect that everyone will be present when laying time starts Friday afternoon and unless something unusual happens between now and starting time everything is slated to run off nicely. Reservations have been made at local hotels to take care of the players and coaches and the committee on entertainment has been very busy last few days making every possible plan for the comfort of the players during the tournament.

The work on the court is scheduled to start tonight after the performance of the Sousa band and a large number of men will be placed at work in order to complete the court by Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Only 37 hours will remain between midnight tonight and the starting time of the tournament which means that the workmen will have to step about in order for the tournament to get off as scheduled. The contractors have promised the court by Friday at noon and every effort will be made to finish the work.

Florida and Clemson will have the honor of opening up the 1924 S. I. C. tournament with a game Thursday night at 8 o'clock on the Atlanta Athletic club court on Auburn avenue. Friday at 1 o'clock Maryland and V. M. I. will open up the main fireworks at the auditorium and before midnight Friday 8 games will have been played, five in the afternoon and three in the evening.

Tulane with a record of 21 victories out of 21 starts this season jumps up as the dark horse of the tournament and its record stands for itself. The smallest score that Tulane has made during the season was 27 points against the Auburn five while the highest score was 47 points against the Spring Hill team. The closest call that the Tulane quint had during the season was against the Centenary five and that score ended with Tulane on the lone end of 31 to 27 score. Tulane has scored 758 points against 474 for its opponents.

Auburn does not present such an enviable record for tournament dopsters to figure out and will meet Georgia Tech in its first game which should be interesting despite the scores that have been made during the season. This true that Tech holds two victories over Auburn from the Plains, but since the shake-up in the Tech team recently took place things look none too bright for the Jackets at this time. Auburn has scored only 334 points for the season while opponents have scored 392. The Tigers have won only three games out of 15 starts.

PREP MEETING SLATED FOR TODAY

There will be a meeting of the directors of the city prep league this afternoon at 5 o'clock at the Atlanta Athletic club for the purpose of adopting plans for the city prep basketball tournament. Al Doonan, commissioner of the prep league, will submit certain plans that have been outlined. Every member of the league is urged to be present.

According to Doonan, the plans that he will submit call for four games on Saturday morning beginning at 9:30 o'clock, two games on Monday afternoon at 3 and 4 o'clock, with the championship battle Tuesday night just prior to the S. I. C. championship game.

There will be eight teams in the prep title race, with University school as champions of the G. I. A. A. on the inside track. Tech High and G. M. A. will put up a strong bid, not to say anything about the local high schools, but they have been outstanding just prior to the S. I. C. championship game.

The question of officials for the prep tournament will be one of the main issues this afternoon, but, according to Doonan, those men that he has in mind are capable and will be suitable to all concerned.

There is very little basis for comparison on the strength of the prep league teams. University spilled the dope at Griffin in the G. I. A. A. tournament by eliminating Tech High in the second round, while Boys' High and Commercial also fell by the wayside before the tournament reached the semifinals.

G. M. A. was considered a favorite in the Cotton States tourney at Auburn, Ala., but the Simpson High five out of the Bulldogs in the S. I. C. championship game after a hard fight.

Declar High has been making a good record all season and with practically a veteran team of last year should give prep teams a hard battle for the title.

Mobile Players Begin Arriving

Mobile, Ala., February 26.—Catcher Al Devorner, obtained by the local Southern association baseball club from the Boston American league arrived here today to begin training for the coming season. The star batsman came in with Mrs. Devorner and three children from Grand Rapids, Mich.

Milton Mullen, who has been playing second base in St. Louis, has been traded to a tryout with Manager Hubert's outfit. Bill Marriot, third baseman, sent in his contract today for another year.

John Wilson, a semi-pro pitcher from Kansas City, Mo., who comes highly recommended, will be given a tryout this afternoon by Manager George Sisler, of the St. Louis Browns, who are training here. Rain this morning prevented early practice today.

Barnhardt Signs With Wilson Club

Bill Barnhardt, who tried out for the local baseball team last year, and who formerly played with the Little Rock Travelers, has been signed by the Wilson (N. C.) team of the Virginia league, according to a report received here.

Barnhardt is a local boy, having played amateur ball in Atlanta for the past several years. He is well known in Atlanta for his work in helping the World's Fair, and during his first season, Bill is a hard working player, and will in all probability make Wilson a valuable man. He will be used either as a catcher or an outfielder.

Duby White, who twirled some brilliant ball for Boys' High, was sent to the Wilson club, but was not sent to Wilson as yet. White is very anxious to get White.

SEMINARY QUINTET TO MEET RED CROSS

Saturday afternoon on the Marietta college basketball court the Washington seminary basketball team will battle the Red Cross five, in which should prove a very interesting game. The two teams have yet to be before, the seminary girls were the victors in a hotly contested game. The Red Cross team is out for revenge.

as the fireworks begin. For it is only through the medium of scrimmaging that the coaches are able to ascertain which of several candidates for the same position is the better.

With a large number of letter men turning to school, the fight for regular positions this year will be bitter to the extreme. For example, five men were awarded their letters at the same time last year. Only two of these five can play in a game at the same time. Now, which two of these five will be the successful candidates for the variety positions is likely it is that all five will see enough service next year to make their letter that comes from being a regular.

Will Meet Tech in Conference Tilt

Four of the Auburn cage stars that will lead the Tiger attack against Georgia Tech's cage squad on Friday in the initial game for each school in the Southern Intercollegiate conference tourney which gets underway here that day. From left to right the players are Creel, McKinney, Hahn and Duke.

Macon, Ga., February 26.—(Special.)—This correspondent woke up this morning in the 9th floor corridor of the Dempsey hotel, dribbling a bar of soap expertly up and down the aisle. Walking down Cherry street this afternoon he tried to shoot an arc light globe through the window of Dean Bakewell's haberdashery shop. It's all on account of basketball.

It's a cage complex, the result of watching the prep tournament in Griffin last week, with conversations with Doc Cable, the present delightful epidemic of S. I. A. A. basketball, and the anticipation of some more basketball games the latter part of this week in Atlanta.

During the time they don't spend in kidding "Rip" Majors and Harry Kendall, people who inhabit Macon are talking about the basketball game, which will take place next Thursday night between the Macon Athletic club and the S. I. A. A. basketball coaches. No matter what else happens, this game will. Large-waisted jerseys have already been ordered.

Pardon a minute and I'll donate the lineup. Robbie Robinson, who directs a mean athletics at Mercer, will play a guard for the local athletic club. Carey Robinson, middle initial J., will play the other guard, if any. Ashby Fuss, whose typewriter I am even now using, and who is running a profitable sporting goods business in Macon, after a notable athletic career, will play a forward. Jim Clements will do the same, and mighty well. Harry Kendall, one of the tallest orators in the nation, will jump center. He will play spasmodically.

For the coaches, "Rip" Majors will occupy the pivot position, and promises to remain calm when the timer's pistol shoots. Zimowski, whose name is supposed to be sneezed, not pronounced, will play one of the forwards. King, of Mississippi college and intermediate points, will do whatever is necessary for the other forward position. McClain, who has raised a healthy tribe at Newberry, will do half the guarding stuff, and Tink Gilliam, of Mercer, with the deep base voice, will help him. Bill Redd, since he can actually play basketball, is eliminated and has consented to manage the team.

LOHMAN IS TRAINING HARD FOR BOUT WITH JEFF SMITH

That Joe Lohman, the Toledo light-heavyweight, is taking his coming match with Jeff Smith, who is being trained by a great deal of money, is indicated in a letter received by this department from Jim Hendricks, manager of the Ohio bout.

According to Hendricks, Lohman is weighing around 170 pounds, has natural weight, and is working 10 rounds each day with his different sparring partners. He is in excellent shape, it said, to finish his workouts just as strong as when he started.

Joe realizes that Jeff Smith is one of the very toughest light-heavyweights in the business, but Joe is out to win this bout, as this is the making or breaking of him. To lose would break up his plans for the coming season, says Hendricks, in his letter.

Lohman met Budd Gorman in Muskegon, Mich. last night and will probably come direct here to complete his training for Jeff Smith.

SPILLERS FIELD OFFERED TO THREE SOUTHERN TEAMS

The dates for the use of Spiller's Field for football games were not only offered to the University of Florida but were also made to Oglethorpe and the University of Georgia, Jack Corbett, president of the Cracker, stated last night.

News dispatches from Gainesville, Fla., stated that the Cracker prexy had offered the use of Spiller's Field on November 1 and 22, and December 6 for grid games that they might be transferred here. Mr. Corbett confirmed this report.

In discussing the matter Corbett declared: "We not only offered these dates to Florida, but also to the University of Georgia and Oglethorpe and asked that they choose any one of the three or all of them if it is agreeable. These are the dates when Georgia Tech is out of town and as Spiller's Field is being especially constructed for football and baseball it can be used next fall."

We have only offered these dates to these three schools and if they do not accept them we will try some other high-class college, as we want our field to be used on these dates."

Oglethorpe has a game scheduled with Sewanee on November at Grant Field on which date Tech will play Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind., on November 22. Oglethorpe will meet

WRESTLING BOUT ENDS IN RIOT

Chicago, February 26.—A riot by a crowd that unexpectedly swarmed the Polack, Stanislaus Zysko, in defeat, terminated his match Tuesday night with the world champion, Ed (Strangler) Lewis.

The stranger won two falls out of three, losing the second tilt to the 51-year-old foreigner.

In the last fall, with the match even, Lewis poked his hand into the Pole's face and quickly grasped a hold. The crowd was howling what it believed a deliberate snub. Lewis was then thrown out of the ring, and the crowd, which had been supporting a foreigner against a native.

While the demonstration waxed stronger, Lewis' headlock gave him the winning fall in 11 minutes. He had taken the first in 24 minutes 45 seconds, and Zysko won the second with short-arm scissors held in 7 minutes 30 seconds. As Lewis left the ring, spectators sprang at him and made an attempt to mob him, but promoter Jack Coffey appeared with a big squad of firemen and police and scattered the crowd, which had by this time lost its temper.

Big Battle For Second Base Job

Detroit, February 26.—The battle is on in the Augusta, Ga., training camp of the Detroit Tigers for the honor of playing second base, according to advices received here.

The much sought for keystone sack has four candidates, and three are on the grounds seeking to make an unenviable impression upon Manager "Ty" Cobb.

"Ty" Cobb has arrived from California and Leslie Burke and Charlie Gehring have been in the camp for a week. Derrill Pratt, the fourth member of the quartet is now in Hot Springs, Ark., "holding out." "Red" Wingo, the former Toronto International League star outfielder, came into camp from his Norcross, Ga., home yesterday.

Make Final Bid For Firpo Bout

New York, February 26.—A final bid for a heavyweight battle on July 19 between Luis Firpo and Harry Wills was contained today in a statement issued by the New York syndicate which has for several weeks been dangling a half million dollar purse in an effort to attract the principals into the match.

Retierating conditions imposed several days ago and subsequently rescinded by Firpo, according to cable dispatches, the syndicate's statement asserts these terms will not be modified and unless the Argentine changes his attitude, all negotiations will cease.

Lew Raymond, who is associated with Sim Flaherty, of the Queensboro A. C. in the syndicate, indicated today that he entertained small hope that Firpo would accept the terms but declared that since he had received no direct word from the South American he desired to make his final position clear.

Terms set forth by the syndicate, which resulted in apparent break up of negotiations, included refusal to post a $50,000 forfeit in Buenos Aires instead of New York and a demand that the South American upon his arrival here, forego all barnstorming and exhibitions and put himself under the syndicate's control until the Wills fight.

There are differences in classification of employment, if one works for the city.

Mercer, Newberry, Centre, And Mississippi College Clash for Honors Tonight

BY PAUL WARWICK.
Macon, Ga., February 26.—(Special.)—Mercer, at death grips with Mississippi college, and Newberry striving to blot Centre out of the tournament cosmos, will constitute the semi-final round of the S. I. A. A. basketball meet here tomorrow night.

Mercer arrives at the semi-final juncture with a good chance to enter the final and most important round by virtue of a victory over Louisiana college Tuesday night by the score of 39 to 23.

Newberry in the other night game, vanquished Furman by the proverbial hair's breadth, 24 to 23, and attained the right to stay in the fight's midst. As has been true throughout the tournament, Mercer still is favored to annex the laurels. Her victory over Mississippi, at any rate, is much more assured than is the triumph of Newberry over Centre. Newberry stands a slight favorite, but not without consideration of the extreme rapidity with which the Colonels are defeated.

Miss. Beats Wofford.
Mississippi enters the next to last round through having put the skids to Wofford in a fast game Tuesday afternoon, which ended with 42 to 32 score characterizing it. Lindsay, who had starred for the Wofford aggregation the day before, starred again despite his team's defeat, by registering 23 of his five's points.

Centre tackled Bill Redd's Chattanooga aggregation in the waning hours of daylight Tuesday and got away with a 27 to 25 win after one of the most titanic struggles any man has ever been privileged to observe. Covington, of Centre football fame, led the attack for his outfit, ably assisted by Dooly, a flashy forward, and Dyer at center, and Cate at guard—none brighter for the losing Moccasins.

Newberry, as has already been hinted, stayed in because they succeeded in casting aside Laval's Furman entry in the first game of darkness, 24 to 23. Newberry still means a great deal in this tourney business, especially Wollett and Rickert, respectively, center and guard of the outfit.

Weather hampers crowd.
Extreme weather conditions are hampering the financial success of the S. I. A. A. meet and at the same time preventing large crowds from seeing some of the best and most closely contested basketball played in these or any other parts in many a fleeting month. A rising old rainstorm, causing clouds from the northeast, settled in late Tuesday afternoon and scared away the crowds that undoubtedly would have been on hand.

The unflagging zeal and spirit of Robbie Robinson, Mercer's athletic director and S. I. A. A. chairman for the tournament, and that of Dr. Foust, Mercer's president, are still in the line-up and optimistic to the last.

Macon will be waiting this tournament again next year, no matter if the horrible inclemency makes them lose some cash. Simply because that is the way Macon feels about things.

Again starting off slowly and trailing in the five minutes of the game, Mercer displayed some of the form which has given it a high standing in southern basketball in the second half of the final game tonight and defeated Louisiana college, 39 to 23. Mercer was leading 14 to 13 at the end of the first half and showed its improved form by scoring 25 points in the second half. Although playing without three of its best men who were injured before the tournament, Louisiana held on grimly and several times broke through the Mercer defense to cut the winning margin. Simmons, forward, and Hovins, center, with nine points each, leading in the scoring for the Louisianians.

The Line-Up and Summary.

CENTRE QUARTET HAS CLOSE CALL

Be to revert to that hair-raising encounter between Centre and Chattanooga the second game of Tuesday afternoon. It was Covington, this same Maxfield flash who has almost earned the very high place of Bo McMillin in stories of the Colonels' gridiron prowess, who featured the game. His speed on a basket court is as uncanny and as dazzling as his speed on the white striped field, and his broken field dribbling is a marvel to behold.

But Herb and the others on the Centre team had great competition in the five that Bill Redd has coached. A smooth working, fast breaking outfit, they gave the Centre crowd chockablock if they could handle in so narrow a space. Cate, the standing guard of the Moccasins, is most dependable and effective and if it had not been for his sterling ability, the Kentuckyians would have amassed a far more overwhelming total.

Another stellar gent—man for the Colonels was Dooly, who registered twelve of his team's points before being ejected for personal fouls. His accuracy and Covington's floor work and shooting were entirely responsible for the victory.

Here follows the line-up and summary of the Centre-Chattanooga game, a line-up by the way, which in no way tells the story of the game. CENTRE (27). CHATTA. (25). Covington (11) . . . r. f. . . . WOFFORD BOWS BEFORE MISS. ATTACK.
Rip Majors' Wofford quintet went down in defeat before the well coached and speedy Mississippi college crew in the first game of the afternoon by a score of 42 to 32.

Mississippi won great gobs of trouble in store to lavish on other championship aspirants.

A belated second half rally by Wofford threw a scare into Mississippi, but availed no victory. This tanky youth, Lindsay, strode back into the limelight by a veritable barrage of successful field and foul shots, getting himself a total of 23 points. After one shot nine successive foul shots, missing none.

The first half proved that Lindsay, who had been high point man for the day previous for the Wofford crew, had not lost his eye, but the smooth combination of Mississippi had things its own way most of the time, ending the half with 21 points to the 13 mustered for duty by Rip's crew. Parks, a stellar guard, went out in the half on personal fouls.

NEWBERY BARELY BEATS FURMAN.

Repeating the prevalent tendency to display nothing but highly enthralling contests, Newberry emerged victor over Furman in the first night game of Tuesday, triumphing by a 24-to-23 score. Wollett, of Newberry, was the individual star.

The Newberry squad maintained the high standard they had set the night previous against Georgetown and came out in the first half leading the Laval crew 13 to 11, but by just 2 points.

Chicago, February 26.—Chairman Ben W. Hooper, of the United States railroad labor board, announced tonight that he will not be a candidate for re-election as chairman. Election of a new chairman of the board will take place in April. Mr. Hooper has held the position for two years, succeeding Judge R. M. Barton, former member of the board.
Chairman Hooper's announcement was contained in a memorandum to the board issued tonight in which he stated that he was giving up in advance that he would not be a candidate for the chairmanship.

Denied by Booth
Jacksonville, Fla., February 26.—Emphatic denial of a story several days ago from New York to the effect that orders have been issued by General Brannwell Booth, international commander of the Salvation Army, calling on all officers of that organization to resign from secret societies and refrain from joining such in the future, was made by Commander Booth tonight. Commander Booth arrived here tonight and gave out the contents of the cablegram received from Commander Edward J. Higgins, London.

GIRL WHO CLAIMED
DEFENSE OF HOME
HELD FOR MURDER
Cleveland, Ohio, February 26.—Mrs. Nettie Annelli, 21, who told detectives how she defended her home against three men with an automatic pistol in a gun battle Sunday night, in which two of the attacking party, Michael Mariano and Ralph Trnaso, were killed, was held on a charge of murder today by two men who were in the house during the battle. The men are Philip Annelli, cousin of the young woman's second husband, and John V. Vello, who according to detectives, admitted firing some of the shots in the volley which killed the two men.
Detective Charles Carolo, who investigated the case, declared he had refuted the story of the young woman in its three major details—that she did all of the shooting from the house; that the attackers fired first; and that the men demanded money from her father under threat of death.
Evidence he secured, Carolo said, indicated that Mrs. Annelli, 18 Vello and Philip Annelli, an opened fire from the house.
Mrs. Annelli, who admitted using an automatic pistol, said she did not intend to do any harm, but that she was in the house when the three men entered and she was forced to defend herself.

Alamo No. 2—Today, "Rupert of Hentzau."
Tudor Theater—Today and Thursday, "Turn to the Right."
Alpha Theater—Today, Serials, Comedy and Drama.
Spirit Stunts Tonight.
(At Atlanta Theater.)
Blackstone "Spook" demonstration in addition to regular musical program. Tonight at the Atlanta Theater, Blackstone will demonstrate that every alleged supernatural spiritualistic manifestation can be duplicated in a purely scientific and natural manner.
Tonight's demonstration will not be repeated. Tomorrow as an added attraction Blackstone will show for the first time in this city his new repertoire of original card tricks. Friday night he will attempt to escape from a stout packing case to be constructed by a local firm.
Saturday afternoon a large number of "pretty rabbits" will be materialized by Blackstone and presented to the kiddies.
"Spice of 1923."
(Coming to Atlanta.)
Different in its construction from any other musical revue ever seen here before and shock full of novelty, "Spice of 1923" will be the attraction at the Atlanta Theater next Monday night, when it begins an engagement of one week, with matinee Wednesday and Saturday. While it is revealing in character, "Spice" has a satirical story and portrays the foibles of the well-known human race in the most amusing fashion, in song, story, dance and numerous skits written by Jack Lait. Edward L. Bloom, general manager of the New York Winter Garden, here the revue had a sensational run, is presenting it in its entirety with the original cast and thirty-two new songs. "Spice" is by no means the least part of the entertainment. Seats go on sale tomorrow (Thursday) morning.
"The Mirage."
(At the Lyric.)
The saying grace of honest love is the theme of one of the most exciting modern dramas, "The Mirage," which the Lyric players are presenting all this week with Miss Isabelle LaLoe as the girl who violated the social code and David Herblin as the man whose love forgives everything. The $25,000 earnings of the New York, but the sensationalism is handled in a delicate way that, while driving home its point, is not objectionable. The $25,000 earnings of the New York, but the sensationalism is handled in a delicate way that, while driving home its point, is not objectionable.
(At Loew's Grand)
Every love of up-to-the-minute musical comedy—and that includes just about everybody—will find a real delight in the scintillating, colorful melode of songs, dances and story for the act of the five beauties in the "Odities of 1924" that is heading the vaudeville program at Loew's Grand Theater this week.
Also the bill includes Jim Connors and Edna Byrne, in a pleasing comedy, "A Piece of Lace," and The White Brothers, who play the roles of Bob Cook and Dot Outman, sing a selection of popular songs, while Clayton and Connie are as funny as ever in their skit, "The English Chap and His Friend."
"The Virginian," with Kenneth Harlan, is the feature picture.
Keith's Vaudeville.
(At Forsyth.)
Patricia, celebrated singer of blues songs, is adding new triumphs to her already imposing list at Keith's Forsyth Theater. During the past week, this week where she is offering her cycle of character songs as the headlining attraction of the vaudeville program.
In addition the bill includes the comedy sketch of Wilson, Ross and company entitled "Mr. and Mrs. Anyone," J. W. Pollard is a "Comedy Manipulator" of real enjoyment, while the Mitchell's provide "Fun in the Air" in their aerial novelty.
Pola Negri.
(At Howard.)
Pola Negri in her latest Paramount picture, "Shadows of Paris," opened at the Howard Theater Monday to large audiences in spite of the inclement weather. Many favorable comments were received from the patrons about the picture. In "Shadows of Paris" the star once more comes into her own. She is quite herself as Claire, leader of the Apache bands of the Parisian underworld. Then there is Charles de Roche as her Apache lover, who is called away from her and falsely reported killed. Hunt's Gordon as Raoul whom Claire, posing as a Polish war widow, marries, and Adolph Menjou as Raoul's secretary and friend—all are featured and all give excellent accounts of themselves.
Barthelmess in "21."
(At the Metropolitan.)
Mr. Barthelmess, as the "poor little rich boy" just reaching manhood, enacts the role with his usual skill, while Dorothy Mackall, as the charming heroine, wistful at times but always lovely, handles her part with a delicacy of feeling that would win the hearts of any group of spectators. A capable cast appears to support the two principals.
A feature that is making a hit at the Metropolitan is Rolfe's "Rainbow Orchestra." This musical aggregation is composed of talented exponents of jazz harmony.
"St Elmo."
(At the Rialto.)
We advise that you get seats for "St. Elmo," now playing at the Rialto Theater, and watch John Gilbert in the title role. It is the film version of the famous play by Augusta Evans and the play which for so long a time was popular. And there are others in the screen version worth seeing, such as Bessie Love, Barbara La Marr, Warner Baxter, Nigel De Brulier and Lydia Knott. Jerome Storm directed them.
"Shuffle Along" Today.
(For Colored at Theater.)
Tuneful, syncopating jazz and clever comedy interspersed with love haunting melodies, presented by a cast of colored talent is promised in the forthcoming engagement of "Shuffle Along," the much heralded musical sensation which will be at the St. Theater twice daily commencing today, February 27.
White-midnight frolic Friday at 10:45 p. m.
The chorus is one of the features that is said to attract more than passing attention. The song numbers are many and varied, all new, and among them "Sing Me a Song, Ma'am, Dear," "Oriental Blues," "African Dip," and many others.
All seats reserved for all shows.

For Hearst Plan
St. Louis, February 26.—Brookridge Long, former third assistant secretary of state, in a letter to R. Green Terrill, of Moberly, Mo., a member of the democratic state committee, asserts that United States Senator James A. Reed is not a "bona fide" candidate for the democratic presidential nomination. He alleges Reed is acting in furtherance of a scheme of William Randolph Hearst and Charles F. Murphy, of Chicago, to control a third of the delegates to the national convention and prevent the nomination of William G. Ma'doo.
Long, who was defeated for the senatorial nomination by Reed two years ago, asserts that Ma'doo emerged from the oil attack stronger than ever. The letter was made public by Ma'doo's supporters here.
Hannibal, Mo., February 26.—"It is a mistake to say that the answer given to statements that he is running in the interest of 'any other presidential candidate,' by Senator James A. Reed, upon his arrival here today.
Senator Reed declared that Brookridge Long, his opponent for the democratic nomination for United States senator in 1924, was a "poor loser." Long had charged that Reed in reality was acting in furtherance of a scheme to prevent the nomination of Ma'doo.
His statement adds:
"Mr. Long made his statement with a knowledge of evidence because there could be no evidence from a thing so utterly false.
"His great wisdom in matters political is probably due to the fact that he has run six times for political positions and has an unbroken record of defeats. He is the Napoleon of six Waterloo. Ordinarily a horse that loses six races in succession is retired from the track.
"Everybody who knows me at all knows that I do not start in races unless I intend to go through it. If I am successful in Missouri I shall be in the race unto the end and hope to succeed."
"Are you in favor of a tax on bachelors?" bawled a heckler. "I thought, sir," replied the candidate, "that I had already made it clear that I was in favor of any tax on raw material."—Pathfinder.

Fort Meade, Fla., February 26.—A coroner's jury late yesterday found that John Collins, a farmer, came to his death earlier in the day at the hands of his wife's cousin, Raymond Collins. Fort Meade officers testified they found John dead at his home four miles north of here, a bullet hole through his head. Raymond gave himself up and is in the county jail at Bartow.
The prisoner stated, according to authorities, that he shot John when he threatened the life of his wife and three children with a razor. A razor was found in John's pocket, enclosed in a case, the officers testified. Mrs. Collins declared her husband threatened her life on several occasions.
The body was sent yesterday to the family home in central Georgia for burial.
Bartow, Fla., February 26.—Raymond Collins, confessed slayer of John Collins near Fort Meade yesterday, is held in the county jail

FARMERS CLING TO OLD METHODS IN MODERN WORLD

Springfield, Mass., February 26.—The reason so many of the 24,000,000 farmers in this country are going out of business is because they cling to the American tradition of individualism and refuse to organize, Senator Capper, of Kansas, declared tonight in addressing the annual banquet of the Eastern States Farmers' Cooperative Exchange.

"When the farmer sells," he said,

"he sells to an organized market—a market organized to take speculative profits. When he goes into the market to buy, he buys from an organized market."

"The farmer is the only unorganized group in a highly organized business and industrial community. Because he lacks organization; because he lacks determining voice in the sale of his commodity, the farmer gets but seven and a half billion dollars for products for which the consumer pays twenty-two and a half billions. For speculators, middlemen and transportation to collect a toll of fifteen billion dollars on that for which the farmer gets but seven and a half billions is a tragic absurdity." Senator Capper declared that although Congress "will go just as far as it possibly can along sound and practical lines," only a fraction of the farmer's problem could be solved by legislation. The big remedy, he said, lays in the extension of cooperative marketing and buying exchanges and the gradual development of farmer-leaders who could hold their own in competition with leaders in the business world.

170 "Boners" Left Out Of Leading Student List at Chicago U.

Chicago, February 26.—Out at the University of Chicago today the "boners" received a shock when a list of 273 names of "leading students" was made public which omitted 170 students who had received "A" ratings.

Dean Ernest H. Wilkins issued a statement defining a "leading student" in which the studios habits of a "grid" were mentioned.

A leading student, the dean said, was one who possesses in a notable degree, many qualities which promise growth and attainment in leadership. He named these qualities as attractive personality, technical ability, accuracy of observation, intellectual curiosity, ability to reason, and love of one's fellows.

GREENE'S CONDITION SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Washington, February 26.—Senator Greene, of Vermont, continued to make progress toward recovery today. Attending physicians stated, however, that it could not yet be said that he was out of danger, and that it would have been done had the seizure been made outside the three-mile limit.

The shooting of Senator Greene during a gun battle between revenue agents and suspected bootleggers 10 days ago was the subject of another resolution introduced in the senate today. Senator Dale, his republican colleague, proposed that the judiciary committee be authorized to investigate the circumstances of the shooting and recommend measures to prevent such occurrences in the future.

Breach Widens Between Spain And Its Savants

Port, Vendres, Franco-Spanish Frontier, February 26.—The controversy between the government and the Spanish intellectuals, initiated by the recent order of the military director for the deportation of Professor Miguel Unamuno, of Salamanca university, because of a political demonstration to have grown out of one of his lectures, has been productive of further consequences.

Students and professors are not accepting calmly the action taken against Professor Unamuno. At the same time the directorate is claimed to be showing little energy in going ahead with punishment of the politicians among members of the military responsible for the Moroccan debacle. In some quarters the opinion is expressed that General Primo de Rivera, by starting a fight against intellectuals, has committed an error which may have disagreeable consequences for the government.
